JDS alleges corruption in Union Min's office, Joshi refutes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

OPPOSITION Janata Dal (Secular) on Tuesday alleged that a person working in Union Minister for Parliamentary Affairs Pralhad Joshi's office was involved in corruption and demanded a high-level probe into it. Joshi has rubbished it as "wild allegations and heights of misleading the public."

Addressing a press conference in Bengaluru, JDS MLC SL Bhoje Gowda alleged that a person working in the minister's office was involved in corruption in recommending a person's name for membership in the National Medical Council and appointment in All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS). Former chief minister Kumaraswamy was also present during the press conference.

Gowda alleged that Rs 2.5 crore was transferred to a particular bank account twice and there is a need for a high-level probe to know what was the connection between money transfers, the recommendation letter, and who got the money. A copy of a bank statement and a letter with the name masked were released to the media. Gowda claimed they have several documents related to alleged irregularities that will be released soon.

Joshi took to Twitter to rubbish the allegations. "This type of wild and baseless allegations will be dealt with seriously. I will contemplate filing a defamation case for tarnishing my name," he stated. "First of all, this letter is marked to a doctor, and I am certainly not a doctor. There is no such employee working in my office. If you are so confident, why have you blurred the name and content of this letter," he stated while tagging the letter that was released by the JDS leader. Joshi also tagged the original copy of the letter that was addressed by then Union Health Minister Dr Harsh Vardhan to Dr BD Pandey, Ex-Municipal Councillor, New Delhi, in which the minister was acknowledging that he received the curriculum vitae of a doctor who was being recommended for appointment as member in the National Medical Commission. However, the original letter has no mention of Joshi or any staff of his office.

Senior BJP leader and MLC Chaluvadi Narayanswamy said the JDS leaders are targeting Joshi after he criticised the party's Pancharatna Yatra. "This shows immaturity of the JDS leaders," he said. MORE ON: P4

Special SC bench to hear Bilkis Bano's plea

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday agreed to constitute a special bench to hear the pleas challenging the Gujarat government's order allowing premature release of 11 convicts sentenced to life in the Bilkis Bano case. During the 2002 Gujarat riots, Bano, who was five months pregnant, was gang-raped and seven members of her family killed.

Urging the bench headed by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud to list the plea, advocate Shobha Gupta said Justice Ajay Rastogi was continuously sitting in a combination of himself and Justice Bela Trivedi, who had earlier recused herself from hearing the matter.

The bench, also comprising judges P S Narasimha and J B Pardiwala, assured Bano that the new bench will be formed at the earliest.

The top court had earlier clarified that objections pertaining to locus of pleas filed by third party petitioners by one of the convicts Radhey Shyam and the Gujarat government did not arise anymore. The court also clarified that it would take up Bilkis's plea as lead matter. "After victim's plea comes, the issue of locus goes... Come on merits. In these cases no technicality has to follow," Justice Rastogi had remarked while posting the pleas for February.

RESCUE RACE ON, TOLL 7,100

WITH the toll crossing 7,100 a day after a 7.8 pre-dawn earthquake shook up Turkiye and Syria, Turkiye President Recip Tayyip Erdogan declared a state of emergency for three months in 10 of the worst-hit provinces in his country. Amid temperatures below freezing point and over 200 aftershocks, rescuers raced against time as nearly 6,000 buildings collapsed in Turkiye alone.

Not all buildings have been accessed by the rescuers yet. In the Hatay province in Turkyie where 1,500 buildings were destroyed, rescue effort was yet to begin. But in areas where teams worked, occasional cheers broke out through the night as survivors were brought out of the rubble. There were also reports of people stuck in the rubble sending videos and voice messages requesting urgent assistance and rescue. So far, over 8,000 people have been pulled from the debris in Turkiye.

Amid a global scramble to rush humanitarian support, India on Tuesday sent five aircraft full of relief and rescue equipment, which includes NDRF search and rescue teams, medical equipment for creating a 30-bed makeshift hospital, drilling machines and dog squads.

Out of the five IAF C17 aircraft, four have been sent to Turkiye and one to Syria. "PM Modi gave immediate instructions to build a crisis centre and all relevant Indian authorities had a meeting. This is an example of good friendship and we really appreciate it. We are in touch with the Indian Embassy in Ankara along with Indian authorities in Delhi," Turkiye envoy Firat Sunel said. "We really appreciated the Indian heart," Syrian envoy Bassam Seifeddin Alkhatib said. MIRACLE BABY: P12

Rahul questions Adani-Modi link

Accuses the BJP govt of tweaking rules to help the conglomerate win mega projects

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

FRESH from his five month-long cross-country march, senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday launched a blistering attack on the Narendra Modi government and its alleged links with the Adani group, which is facing allegations of stock manipulation and fraud.

Rahul's all-out offensive against the government came on a day when Opposition parties decided to end the three-day logjam in Parliament and take part in the motion of thanks to the President's address.

The Wayanad MP alleged that the Modi government has been favouring the Adani group since it came to power in 2014. He also accused the Centre of changing rules to help Adani acquire airports.

"There was a rule that only a company or person with experience in airports be given the responsibility of developing airports. But, the government changed the rules for the Adani group and six airports were handed over to him. Adani now dominates several sectors such as ports, airports, cement, media and defence," he added.

In 2014, Adani's position was 609 on the list of the world's richest. Now he is in the second place. It is sheer magic

Rahul Gandhi

Both the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha had not transacted any business till this debate in the ongoing Budget session as the Opposition stuck to its demand for a Joint Parliamentary Committee or Supreme Court-monitored probe into allegations against Adani.

Rahul Gandhi's fiery speech drew strong protests from BJP ministers and MPs, who asked the Congress scion to substantiate his 'wild allegations' with proof.

The former Congress president, then, displayed a photograph of Modi and Adani in an aircraft together, wondering how many trips the duo must have taken together.

"Modi goes to Australia and the next day SBI gives a $1 billion loan to Adani. He goes to Bangladesh and the Bangladesh Power Development Board signs a 25-year contract with Adani," he alleged, demanding answers to his questions from the PM in his speech on Wednesday.

In his 40-minute-long speech in the Lok Sabha, Rahul also sought to know how much money Adani has given to the BJP in the past 20 years.

HC sends 'arrogant' advocate to jail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has sent an advocate to judicial custody for a week on charges of making baseless allegations against four sitting judges.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the order on February 2, 2023, in criminal contempt proceedings initiated against the advocate KS Anil by the High Court in 2019.

"We asked the accused whether he requires some time to make oral submissions or to file written submissions. However, he avoided the query of the court and started behaving arrogantly.... In spite of our attempts to hear him patiently, the accused started making gestures in the court", the court said.

"Making allegations against the judges of this court clearly shows that the accused has no regard for the judicial system. As a practising advocate, the consistent behaviour of the accused on earlier occasions too, besides making wild allegations against the judicial system and the judicial officers in particular, indicates that he is trying to demean the institution and is lowering the image of the judicial system in public eye," the court said. Now, hear it from bugs, 'Mogambo khush hua!'

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

MOGAMBO, Ramu Kaka. These on-screen names of Bollywood legends Amrish Puri and AK Hangal are now being given to bugs by researchers in Gadag. This new nomenclature method is trending and students and researchers have welcomed the initiative.

While Apeflypupa2 has been named 'Mogambo', the iconic role played by Amrish Puri in the 1987 movie 'Mr India', Halyomorpha Halys has been named Ramu Kaka, role played by veteran actor AK Hangal in many movies.

'Mogambo' named after Amrish Puri and 'Ramu Kaka' after AK Hangal

Researchers say the move has twin-purpose. One, to pay tribute to the celebrities and second, to create interest in research students by making the study of bugs easier for identification.

Researchers Sangamesh Kadagad and Manjunath Nayak said, "We have been naming the bugs to help junior researchers easily identify them. We first tell them scientific names and then select names of legends. Now, students are easily remembering the names of the specimen. We have also named some bugs after famous politicians and cricketers based on their looks and morphology, but are yet to finalise them". P5

Slew of big-ticket events push up price of hotel rooms

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

WITH just a week to go for Aero India-2023, there are hardly any rooms at five-star hotels in the city. The hotel industry is literally cashing in on the desperate demand by upping room prices to more than three times the original price.

The G-20 summit, the ongoing Energy Summit and then the upcoming air show from February 13 to 17 have ensured a non-stop demand for rooms in February, said hoteliers.

K Shyamaraju, president of South India Hotel and Restaurant Association, told The New Indian Express, "The Ministry of Defence had already blocked 500 rooms in hotels across the city for its personnel and international delegates over a month ago. They got them at regular prices only, but those booking now are paying a high price for it."

The top hotels in the city will alone have nearly 2,000 rooms in total. "There is a demand not merely for rooms at 5-star ones, but also in 3-star and 2-star hotels," he added.

A top official, who was attempting to book a room for his bosses arriving from New Delhi, said, "There are hardly any rooms available at 5-star hotels. The few that are have increased the cost per night from Rs 15,000 to Rs 40,000," he said.

A top hotelier confirmed this. "This is a demand-based industry. When there is such a high demand, then prices will naturally shoot up," he said.

An individual familiar with the hotel scene said, "The rates have shot up even to Rs 50,000 now. This the scenario from February 5 to 19 as those arriving for the Aero Show will generally extend their stay a bit to take a tour of the city."

A top hotel in Whitefield said they did have rooms. "It will be impossible to get a room in Yelahanka and surrounding areas, but our facility is at least 1.5 hours from the venue of the show and we are still taking bookings," said a source.

Namma Clinics will be a gamechanger: CM

Inaugurates healthcare facilities, schools, parks in Mahalakshmi Layout

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday said Namma Clinics are a revolutionary step that will benefit people who have been deprived of access to health services.

He was speaking to the media after inaugurating 108 Namma clinics, schools and parks at Rani Abbakkadevi Playground in Mahalakshmi Layout Assembly constituency on Tuesday.

In all, 438 Namma Clinics are being set up in the state, of which, 243 will be in Bengaluru city.

"Along with common cold and cough, diseases like BP, diabetes etc will also be screened in these clinics. Medicines will be provided free of charge. There is also a telemedicine facility to consult with specialists. The Namma Clinics will further strengthen the healthcare system," he said.

He added that the dialysis and chemotherapy cycles have been increased from 30,000 to 60,000 per day and 12 new centres have been opened. A cochlear implant centre is being set up at a cost of Rs 500 crore for the congenitally deaf.

A scheme to provide spectacles to people above 60 years of age and increasing the subsidy for acid attack victims from Rs 3,000 to Rs 10,000 has been implemented. A special clinic for women has been established, the CM said.

Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

Bommai also lauded MLA Gopalaiah for carrying out development works and said he inaugurated three schools, one hospital, and the Namma Clinics. "For those who say that there is no development in Bengaluru, I want people to tour the constituency of our MLAs. Forget BJP, funds were also given to opposition MLAs," he said.

Health Minister K Sudhakar attacked the opposition on the occasion. He said the previous government provided disease-centric services, but this government is providing patient-centric services. "People should utilise our clinics as much as possible. At least, once a year people should visit Namma Clinics for a routine check-up," said Sudhakar.

Bommai also visited Padmanabha Nagar assembly constituency and inaugurated various development works, including naming of the stretch from Nayandahalli Junction to Bannerughatta Road after late actor Puneeth Rajkumar, Ashoka Pillar Park, Sri Hanuman Chalisa Stadium, 28 houses at Dobhighat and the Atal Bihari Vajpayee playground.

Ex-corporators roll up sleeves for Assembly polls

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

AFTER several former corporators of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike announced their interest to contest the upcoming Assembly polls, the list of ticket aspirants has now increased two fold. Many of them have also intensified lobbying for tickets and formulating strategies. Two-time BBMP corporator from Nagarbhavi ward, Umesh Shetty, is aspiring to enter the fray on a BJP ticket from Vijayanagar to battle it out with Congress heavyweight M Krishnappa.

"I have been working for the BJP for over 20 years and now want to ensure that the saffron flag flies in Vijayanagar assembly constituency," said Shetty.

He added that the BJP goes by its principle of resting politicians who cross 70 years of age, those who lost twice continuously, those with a bad image and want to experiment with new faces. Hence, he is also trying. Like Shetty, former corporator Dhanraj from Dharmaraya Swamy Temple ward is also aspiring a ticket from Chickpet assembly constituency. "I have worked in 220 booths to ensure Hemchandra Sagar's victory once. I worked for MLA Uday Garudachar the same way and now I also want to become an MLA," he said.

It is said that Dhanraj, a Tamilian with his chosen constituency having a sizable population of Tamils, has also routed his bid for candidacy through the Bengaluru Tamil Sangam to BJP Tamil Nadu president K Annamalai. "Annamalai is BJP co-incharge for Karnataka now, so we have approached him stating that at least one ticket be given to a Tamil candidate from Bengaluru," said a source from the Bengaluru Tamil Sangam.

For the Chikpete assembly constituency, former mayor Gangambike Mallikarjun is also lobbying through her patron Congress leader Ramalinga Reddy to fight it out against former MLA R V Devaraj.

"I have been a two time-corporator and MLA. I used about Rs 200 crore funds to develop Chickpete and some works are still going on. So I am also aspiring for a ticket," said Mallikarjun.

Shivanahalli Manjunath G, who served as a one-time corporator and is now the city BJP president, is lobbying hard for the Rajajinagar constituency. "We have fought for party leader S Suresh Kumar in the last seven terms. Since he promised not to contest earlier, I want to contest," said Manjunath.

AR Shivakumar, Sridhar Reddy, RV Yuvaraj, Timme Gowda and a number of other former BBMP corporators are also aspiring for MLA tickets.

Allot grants to develop govt schools: Prof

ADVISER to the state government on education reforms Prof. MR Doreswamy has urged Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to allot separate grants for the development and maintenance of government schools in the upcoming budget.

Prof. Doreswamy stated that a grant of Rs 10,000 crore should be sanctioned for the development of physical infrastructure, classrooms, toilets, compound, library, safe drinking water in schools, while urging the CM to sanction Rs 3,000 crore as school maintenance grant.

He also requested the government to implement his selected key recommendations such as mentoring, value education, yoga and meditation, and meaningful celebration of public holidays, which do not have any financial burden on the government but have huge potential to leverage the quality of education in the state.

Dead fish found floating in lake

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

EVEN before the peak onset of summer when mass fish kills are reported in lakes in Bengaluru due to low dissolved oxygen levels, dozens of dead fish have been found floating in Kothnur Dinne lake.

Lake activist Raghavendra Pachhapur suspects that the fish kill may be due to discharge of sewage into the lake. "Sewage was found at an inlet from a stormwater drain. Besides, untreated water is also entering the lake from two more inlets. The Bengaluru Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) says it is not their fault, but on the other hand, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), which is the custodian of the lake, too is rubbing its hands of any responsibility," said Pachhapura. He added that due to pollution, the nitrogen content increases in the lake leading to the formation of algae and reduction of dissolved oxygen which leads to fish kills.

Meanwhile, BBMP's Lake Engineer Vijaykumar Haridas said he is not aware of the incident. He said he will ask the officials concerned to attend to the issue. "I will ask officials to check issues concerning fish kills or may personally visit the spot and take stock of the situation," he said.

BWSSB Engineer-In-Chief N Suresh said as per his knowledge, some areas of the lake are still connected under the BBMP's 110 village component for sewage line. He also suspected that some residents might have caused pollution, and shifted the onus on the Lake Development Authority (LDA).

"The LDA should check and find out the cause of lake pollution. Based on their findings, agencies concerned can be directed to take necessary steps," Suresh said.

Citizens protest over STP deaths

TERMING the death of two workers while cleaning a Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) in the Prestige Falcon City Apartments a failure of the government's efforts to eradicate manual scavenging, citizen activists on Tuesday staged a protest seeking justice for the victims.

The deceased, Ravi Kumar (29) from Koratagere in Tumakuru district and Dilip Kumar Jana (25) from Odisha were employees of Biocentre India and they were working inside the STP at the apartment complex located at Konanakunte Cross. Police suspect that both died of suffocation or electrocution while cleaning the tank.

A number of citizens held a candlelight vigil in front of the apartment seeking compensation for the families of Ravi and Dilip. They also demanded that those who still use manual scavenging should be held accountable.

BDA to file cases against 35 engineers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) is set to approach the police against 35 engineers for conniving and selling off many Civic Amenity (CA) sites in the Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout a decade ago, said BDA Chairman S R Vishwanath.

The scam came to light after staff of a private firm alerted the BDA about it recently. CA sites include spaces earmarked for playgrounds, gym, post offices and community centres.

Giving details about it, a top BDA official said the layout plan approved by the BDA Board needs to be implemented by the engineers on ground. In this specific instance, engineers have carved out spaces earmarked for public good into sites and sold them to whomever they chose to, the official added.

Vishwanath said nearly 300 acres of BDA property has been lost due to such "mischief" by its engineers, a Deputy Secretary and those at the Sub-Registrar office.

08TH February: Is crime related to the stars? Perhaps! I am very interested in research which indicates that the police receive more emergency calls around the time of the Full Moon. But does that really mean that more people commit crimes at this time of the month? Or is it that more people report them? All I can say is that more research is needed but, until then, we should take care when the Moon is at its brightest.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It seems that you are better at giving advice than receiving it, but don't be surprised if people at home answer back. In love, romantic hopes are tied to domestic aspirations, which is in general a thoroughly good thing! An older relation might need a helping hand, by the way, so be ready.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are set to gain emotionally and financially. This is not the moment to turn the tables on people who have got the better of you, but it is a fine point at which to stop and consider what can be done when your chance comes. As I'm sure you understand, there's no need to rush, and every advantage in moving at your own careful pace.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
A new partnership will bring great good fortune at home. First, though, you may have to face a little disappointment openly and courageously. Deal with this well and your eventual success will be all the greater. Plus, if you're ready to experiment with new social activities you might find that you really do enjoy yourself.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You should always remember that you were born under an ambitious sign and have much to accomplish. The moment you forget this and begin to imagine that you are always a sweet and sensitive person, you'll miss major opportunities and your hopes will begin to unravel.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You should always take the long-term view and make a point of broadening your horizons at every turn. It is time to take care of your own needs and aspirations, making it apparent to one and all that you are to be toyed with no longer. People who think otherwise may be in line for a shock.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It's all too easy to jump to conclusions. Have you considered the possibility that you have got someone all wrong? It may be that you have interpreted a partner's behaviour more in line with what you would like to be the case, rather than in terms of what is actually true.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You should be less inclined to worry about partners' and relations' behaviour, for you will only get yourself all steamed up, and still be unable to do anything about it! At work, you should concentrate on getting on with people, as you might need loyal allies in the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's a useful moment to consider your physical well-being, taking whatever decisions are necessary to get into shape with diet and exercise. There's no need to go to extremes - just be sensible. And while you're at it, pursue a new interest now, rather than putting it off for ever.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Some of your basic qualities are strengthened today, especially your adventurousness and your willingness to experiment with new lifestyles and ideas. Don't be afraid to break out, just as long as you have taken whatever advice is essential to avoid failure and guarantee success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There are sound reasons why this is not a good moment to finalise relationship matters unless you are one hundred and ten per cent certain. It is, however, a perfect period in which to open yourself to new partnerships and make new life-long friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Whatever praise or approval you now receive will surely be well-deserved, but never let flattery go to your head. Plus, you should watch out for creeping complacency. If you rest on your laurels for a moment, opportunity may begin to slip from your grasp.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Costs may be increasing, but that is of little significance at the moment. What is very much more important is that you make a bid for romantic happiness. In the final analysis it's all down to your ability to alter your perspective on one particular person.

The accused are R Garakipathi Ajay Venkat Sai alias Ajay (23), a native of Andhra Pradesh, and R Aditya Abhiraj (26) from Bihar, who stays in Viveknagar.

While Ajay faces charges of raping his classmate, Abhiraj allegedly outraged the modesty of a woman, who is the friend of the rape victim.

The two MBA students and the rape victim had studied together while pursuing their degrees at a private university in Jalandhar, Punjab. The victims are said to be from Jammu and Kashmir.

Shaken BJP tries to douse fire lit by HDK

Saffron party swamps social media with messages discrediting former CM

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy's recent statement that BJP would make Union Fertiliser Minister Pralhad Joshi, a Brahmin, the chief minister if it comes to power has shaken up the ruling party and its teams are working extra hard to control the damage.

The ruling party feels that his statements have caused much harm to its electoral prospects and has now chalked out specific strategies to ensure that there is no erosion of its support base. Party leaders are now flooding social media sites with messages discrediting Kumaraswamy and urging readers not to believe what the opposition is saying about the party. The common target of all these messages is the former chief minister. The messages also try to portray his father and former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda and brother HD Revanna in poor light. The BJP's carpet bombing is because ruling party leaders feel Kumaraswamy's statement could cost them Lingayat voters, who have overwhelmingly supported BJP.

A political expert said BJP is also wary of the statement's impact on SC, ST and OBC constituents, which also form the party's voter base. He said BJP won such a large number of seats in the 2008 and 2018 elections because Lingayats voted for the party as on both occasions, community strongman BS Yediyurappa was projected as the chief ministerial candidate. But Kumaraswamy's statement on Pralhad Joshi being the CM candidate would upset this block of voters. Till the statement, it was assumed that Bommai, a Lingayat, would be the next chief minister if the party comes to power, he added.

Political analyst BS Murthy said, "BJP is the only party that has weaponised social media to this extent. This strong reaction from BJP on social media is an indication that Kumaraswamy's statement has affected them severely. That is the reason they are putting up such a solid defence."

Many prominent personalities rushed to BJP's rescue. Swamijis from reputed mutts, like Pejawar, important individuals and BJP leaders like CT Ravi, Govind Karjol, Ravikumar, Chaluvadi Narayanswamy, criticised Kumaraswamy.

India eyes energy security that's affordable, accessible

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE & AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

A stall at the India Energy Week 2023 conference in Bengaluru on Tuesday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

CLIMATE change is a defining challenge of our times, and low carbon emissions are key to mitigating it, said Union Petroleum Minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Tuesday.

In its journey of energy transition, India is aiming to achieve its net zero carbon targets by 2070. To this end, the country is vying to achieve energy security that is affordable and accessible to all, Puri told the 9th Asian Ministerial Energy Roundtable at the India Energy Week 2023.

While India's energy demand is three times the global average and the appetite for energy is only expected to rise, the country — one of Asia's largest — is committed to taking concrete steps to rein in climate change. Elaborating, Puri said, "Each day, 60 million Indians go to the petrol pump. Our consumption is 5 million barrels of crude a day, but since our growth in energy demand is rising thrice the global average... the appetite for energy will rise... We have made concrete steps in that direction... a low carbon emission pathway for development is the key."

On the energy crisis, Puri stated, "It has created a ripple effect on other sectors. High gas prices have created a fertiliser crisis, which has led to food security concerns. Many countries are facing recessionary anxiety, as the high energy and commodity prices have raised inflationary concerns."

Stressing that the world needs hydrocarbons, UAE Minister of Industry and Advanced Technology Sultan Ahmed Al-Jaber said, "The current energy systems cannot be unplugged before a new energy system is built."

Calling upon every segment to work together in the energy transition, Al-Jaber said, "There is no conflict of interest, but it's a common interest that everyone should work towards, in the bid to find needed solutions in the energy transition to make a great leap in economic prosperity."

He added that despite the ongoing (Russia-Ukraine) war, the fear of recession and recovery from a Covid-battered world, the annual investment in clean energy has crossed $1 trillion — an all-time high. Commenting on India's target of achieving 500 GW of clean energy by 2030, he said it is ambitious but achievable, and offered the UAE's assistance.

International Energy Forum Secretary General Joseph McMonigle said that while energy security is back on the agenda globally, the future of energy will be determined in India.

"Energy security can be achieved by investing and establishing trusted partnerships between producers and consumers. Even as we head towards clean energy, half of our energy needs will come from oil and gas. We need to continue investing in the latter to support the global economy and protect the quality of life everywhere. To ensure adequate supply, it's estimated that an investment of $640 billion per year is needed," he concluded.

Fashionable clothing from recycled PET bottles: An idea that's a big hit

A Tamil Nadu-based garment company is making T-shirts and other products using PET bottles | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

A TAMIL Nadu-based garment innovation company is spearheading the revolution to popularise and economise production and purchase of clothes made of recycled PET bottles. Their products t-shirts, jackets and other fashionable products are sold like hotcakes at the India Energy Week and they have received bulk customised orders from many companies.

Senthil Sankar, a polymer technologist from IIT who was in the textile sector, was concerned about the environmental degradation that is caused by PET bottles. He made up his mind to find a solution to the problem. In 2020, Senthil along with his father Sankar, started the venture 'Ecoline' where recycled PET bottles are converted into fashionable clothing.

The PET bottles are turned into flakes, which are melted at around 300 degrees Celsius and then dyed and converted into yarns. These yarns will then be converted into fabric material and then stitched into different garments, Senthil said and added that 6 PET bottles go into the making of one t-shirt.

While the traditional textile industry is water-intensive, Senthil said that in this innovative technology, not a single drop of water is used.

"Our products are available online and we customise the product based on the customer's and company's needs. Our products are available for as low as Rs 350 and go up to Rs 2,000. We aim to make the fashion industry more sustainable and find address the inappropriate behaviour of disposal of PET bottles across the globe," he said.

No Hindus died in clashes when I was CM, says Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kalaburagi

FORMER chief minister Siddaramaiah has claimed that no Hindus were murdered in communal clashes in Karnataka when he was chief minister. He told reporters here on Tuesday that some Hindus and minorities were killed during his regime as chief minister, but that was a different issue. He blamed the BJP and RSS for these murders.

"Several Hindu organisations had created a hue and cry against my government over the murder of Paresh Mesta at Honnavar in Uttara Kannada district in December 2017, and demanded a CBI inquiry. My government handed over investigation to the CBI, which gave its report that it was a natural death," Siddaramaiah said.

Siddaramaiah reiterated that he belonged to the Hindu religion, and has neither spoken against it nor opposed the religion, but only said that no religion preaches violence. "The BJP and RSS are bent on disturbing communal harmony," he added.

To a question, Siddaramaiah felt that Bommai might not have expanded his Cabinet to avoid giving a berth to former CM B S Yediyurappa's son. To another question, he said the Congress high command is likely to release the first list of candidates for the upcoming assembly elections in the last week of February or first week of March.

WAR TIME: BOMMAI SOLDIERS ON WITH A PACKED SCHEDULE

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

CHIEF ministers are choosy when it comes to accepting invitations to participate in programmes, but yet, Basavaraj Bommai has been saying yes to almost every invite that he gets and is walking the extra mile to connect with all sections of society. Is it because of the coming Assembly elections?

His official engagements are fully packed, from early morning to late evening. This is a massive jump from his own programme list just a few months ago. On Tuesday, he unveiled the busts of actors Dr Rajkumar, Shankarnag and Vishnuvardhan at Shaktiganapathinagar Ward No. 14. Later, he inaugurated three BBMP parks — two at Ward No. 182 and one at Ward No. 43. Under different circumstances, these are events that are attended by the mayor or, at best, the local MLA. On Wednesday, he will head to Shivamogga along with former chief minister BS Yediyurappa and others. His schedule is packed again. But it will only get busier for him over the next few weeks as the polls are likely to be announced in March.

Former chief minister Veerappa Moily, who faced elections while in power, said, "It only demonstrates their desperation. The instructions are coming from Delhi, and Bommai has no control." But sources in the Chief Minister's Office disagreed, saying this is how it has been with all chief ministers and they do not say no to any event during elections.

RP Jagadish, a senior journalist who also worked as a media advisor to Yediyurappa, said, "Remember, this is the election time and they do not act like chief ministers, but as candidates. PM Narendra Modi has visited Karnataka so many times in the past few weeks and is expected to come here again many more times in coming weeks. Compared with this, Bommai obviously has to attend even small programmes. The sole purpose now is the election. Contrast this with former chief minister Veerendra Patil, who won 177 seats -- the maximum for any party. He would not go to any function unnecessarily and campaign in by-elections. But those were different times."

Another senior journalist S Siddaraju said, "Bommai is thought to be a common man's CM, and he has to live up to the title. He is trying to prove it by attending all functions. Inaugurating the busts of actors is a way of pleasing their fans."

Madamma gets electricity, but continues struggle to light up her village

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

TRIBAL activist and Rajyotsava award winner Madamma, who lived without electricity for decades in a tribal hamlet of Hanur taluk, has got power connection at last.

She had persistently knocked on the doors of panchayat officials and elected representatives for the basic facility to her hamlet Jeegere Doddi. Electric supply company officials recently erected electric poles and drew the wire to fulfil her wish.

The officials were also pressured by Housing Minister V Somanna, who slammed officials for keeping the 85-year-old midwife in the dark. He directed officers to put up additional poles to provide her power connection and said he would bear the cost if necessary.

But power connection only to eight of the 20 houses, including Madamma's thatched hut, has not gone down well in the hamlet as other residents are upset. Madamma 's daughter Muthamma Poone Gowda, her relatives Madamma Shobha, Chikkamma, Somanna and others still do not have power.

Now, Madamma has decided to renew her struggle to get power connection to all the houses, even as escom officials said they have been directed to provide power only to her house. The local engineer said they need four more poles and wire to supply power to all the houses and it can be done only with orders from higher-ups.

Madamma said she will meet escom officials in Kollegal as discriminatory power connections have not gone down well with other hamlet dwellers. "Why should my grandmother be blamed for the lapses of officers," wondered her grandson Malanna.

Apart from power connection, Madamma also expressed her displeasure over not receiving Rs 5 lakh cash reward given to Rajyotsava awardees. She had sent her granddaughter to check her account, but no money had been credited. "It would be of great help if they deposit the money," she said.

Kannada and Culture Assistant Director Gurulingaiah said they have informed the higher-ups and the money would be credited directly into her account.

Victoria Gowri sworn in as additional judge of Madras High Court

Protests rage outside court, apex court dismisses pleas against her appointment

SHRUTI KAKKAR & R SIVAKUMAR
@ New Delhi/Chennai

LEKSHMANA Chandra Victoria Gowri was on Tuesday sworn in as an additional judge of the Madras High Court on Tuesday, amid protests outside the court and minutes before the Supreme Court dismissed two pleas against her appointment, saying a "consultative process" had taken place before her name was recommended by the collegium for the appointment. Acting Chief Justice of the Madras High Court, T Raja, administered her oath of office.

Four others -- Pillaipakkam Bahukutumbi Balaji, Kandhasami Kulanthaivelu Ramakrishnan, Ramachandran Kalaimathi and Govindarajan Thilakavadi -- were also were sworn in as additional judges.

All new additional judges will hold their posts for a period of two years from the date of taking oath.

"We are not entertaining the writ petition. Reasons will follow," said a special Supreme Court bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and B R Gavai, which heard the pleas against her elevation on Tuesday.

The bench told senior advocate Raju Ramachandran, who appeared for the petitioners, that there have been cases where people with political backgrounds have taken oath as judges of the Supreme Court and high courts.

Underscoring the fact that Gowri was taking oath as an additional judge of Madras HC and her appointment won't be made permanent in case she's not true to her oath, Justice Gavai said that directing the collegium to reconsider would result in showing a lack of respect for it and also set a wrong precedent. "There are instances where persons (additional judges) have not been confirmed," Justice Gavai said.

"How can we act on conjectures and surmises? There are two consultee judges from Tamil Nadu. We'll be setting a very wrong precedent," he added. The bench also said that getting into this was akin to opening up new jurisdiction which courts have refrained from doing.

Challenging her appointment, senior advocate Raju Ramachandran said that Gowri had rendered herself unfit to take oath due to her public utterances. Referring to the YouTube links of her interview captioned, "The more threat to national security and Peace? Jihad or Christian Missionary? and Cultural genocide by Christian Missionaries in Bharat - Victoria Gowri", the senior counsel said that she represented a mindset that is not in tune with the Constitution, contrary and antithetical to the fundamental rights under Articles 14, 15 and 21.

Poachgate: T'gana moves SC against HC order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE & AGENCIES @ Delhi/Hyderabad

THE Telangana government on Tuesday sought an urgent hearing in the Supreme Court on its appeal challenging the high court order upholding a single-bench judge direction for a CBI probe into the BRS MLAs poaching case.

A bench headed by Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud took note of the submissions of senior advocate Dushyant Dave, who appeared in the matter for the Telangana government, that there was an FIR related to "destabilising the state government". Dave said a single-judge bench of the Telangana High Court ordered a CBI probe and a larger bench upheld it, saying the state government's appeal was not maintainable.

"There is a grave urgency. If the CBI enters the investigation, everything will fail," the senior lawyer added.

The bench, also comprising Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala, asked Dave to mention the plea again on Wednesday. "We will list the matter. Mention it tomorrow morning.... Even without mentioning, it will come up next week," the CJI said.

On Monday, a division bench of the Telangana High Court dismissed the state government's appeal against the single-judge order to transfer the probe in the poachgate case from the Special Investigation Team of the state police to the CBI.

The larger bench had confirmed the orders passed by the single judge and dismissed the batch of writ appeals filed by the government and others on the ground of maintainability.

On December 26, 2022, the single judge had ordered the transfer of the probe in the case to the CBI. The high court had also quashed the government order to constitute the SIT and the investigation carried out by it as also the probe conducted by an assistant commissioner of police in the initial stages. After this, the State government and others filed the writ appeals against the single-judge order. However, the division bench of the high court upheld the orders passed by the single judge and dismissed the appeals. It also refused to stay its order when the State's counsel requested for its suspension to enable it to approach the Supreme Court.

The order paved the way for the CBI to proceed with its investigation. The federal agency has already issued letters to the Telangana chief secretary, requesting him to furnish all relevant material in the case.

Three persons -- Ramachandra Bharati alias Satish Sharma, Nandu Kumar and Simhayaji Swamy -- were named as accused (A1 to A3) in the case.

"AS such, this court is left with no other option except to pass an order for taking the accused into judicial custody for committing contempt of court", the court said in its order.

The court said that the accused should be produced before the court on February 10, 2023, the next date of hearing.

Contempt Proceedings

The court had initiated contempt proceedings against Anil in 2019, saying that the allegations made by him against four sitting judges of the high court prima facie tend to scandalise the court and interfere with the administration of justice. Prima facie, the allegations constitute criminal contempt within the meaning of Section 2 (c) of the Contempt of Courts Act, 1971, the court had noted while passing the order on August 5, 2019.

Though time was granted to the accused to unconditionally withdraw all allegations made by him against the judges and to tender an unconditional apology, he did not show remorse.

DKS wants Cauvery stopped for pilgrims, greens upset

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

WILDLIFE experts have questioned KPCC president D K Shivakumar's request to the government about stopping the Cauvery's flow to facilitate the movement of pilgrims, who converge from Ramanagara and Kanakapura, walking to the M M Hills shrine annually during Shivaratri.

In a letter to the MD of the Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Ltd, Shivakumar has requested to stop the flow of the Cauvery waters on February 13 and 14, when the devotees will be crossing the river. Last year, five pilgrims were washed away while crossing the river.

The Congress leader has also requested that arrangements for drinking water be made en route, and has asked the Karnataka Forest Department to protect pilgrims from possible animal attacks.

Wildlife experts pointed out that the entire walking route of devotees goes through the sensitive Cauvery Wildlife Sanctuary, which has a good population of elephants and crocodiles. The experts are suggesting the department to put an end to the practice of walking through the forest.

The experts have also suggested alternative routes. "There are several buses that run from Kanakapura to M M Hills via Malavalli and Kollegal. The devotees can make use of this route even if they want to walk. As the forest route is shorter, people camp at an area named Bommasandra and proceed further. Nearly two lakh people congregate in the forest, home to leopards. How can the forest department provide protection for such a large gathering," asked an expert.

The pilgrims also cook on the way and perform poojas at shrines located in the forest area. "There is always a threat of forest fire. The grass is drier in this season and forest officials have to work to safeguard the forest and its flora and fauna," the expert added. An official from the Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited said that a letter was received from Shivakumar. "We received the letter on January 30, which has been sent to Mysuru. A decision will be taken after discussions with the government and senior officials," the official added.

Man lands behind bars for contempt of K'taka HC order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a civil contempt case initiated for wilfully breaching the interim order of the court by selling a piece of land in question, the Karnataka High Court convicted the accused-contemnor, Prakash, from Nanjangud taluk for contempt of court. He was sentenced to simple imprisonment for three months and a fine of Rs 2,000, or to deposit the entire sale consideration amount within two months. In case of default, he will have to undergo simple imprisonment for another month, the court said.

A division bench of Justice B Veerappa and Justice KS Hemalekha passed the order recently, while allowing the civil contempt petition filed by Somanna and three others.

The contemnor allegedly sold land at Thummaneral village of Chikkaiahna Chatra hobli of Nanjangud taluk in Mysuru district, which amounts to wilful disobedience of the court order. Later, the accused filed an affidavit and sought an unconditional apology, stating that third-party rights were executed due to bonafide reasons.

However, the court said: "We hold the so-called apology is not an act of penitence, contrition or regret, and the acceptance of such an apology in the case on hand would be allowing the contemnors to go away with impunity after committing gross contempt of court... the accused-contemnor is guilty of having committed wilful disobedience of the order dated November 22, 2012..."

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

NO ONE'S COMPLAINING ABOUT INDIA'S SOARING RUSSIAN CRUDE IMPORTS

India's Russian crude oil play is getting curiouser and curiouser. Imports of Urals crude have topped the Indian order book position for four months in a row. The previous month of January had Russian crude accounting for 28% of our supplies, with Iraq, Saudi Arabia and the US—our traditional suppliers—left far behind. This is a massive turnaround considering Russia only accounted for 0.2% of India's crude imports before the Ukraine war. As the West's sanctions have tightened over Russia, India's refiners have seized the opportunity and have been sealing deals at discounts ranging from $10 to $35 per barrel. January purchases have broken all records as imports touched 1.27 million barrels per day (bpd), up from the already high 1.2 million bpd in previous months.

But the twist in the tale is that much of these supplies are not for domestic consumption but are destined for US and European shores. The US, for instance, used to be a big buyer of an intermediate refined product called virgin gas oil (VGO), which can be further refined and sold upstream as diesel and gasoline. With Russian VGO cut off after the sanctions kicked in, US refiners are buying VGO from Indian refineries run by Reliance Energy and Nayara Energy. According to data intelligence agency Kpler, India shipped 89,000 bpd of gasoline and diesel to New York last month, the highest in four years.

So what's becoming of the West's sanctions? And is this round-tripping of refined products to western refiners by India at a handsome profit going to be tolerated by the Western powers? Clearly, India has gone far beyond its original brief of negotiating the best deals to ensure energy security at the most competitive prices. On the other hand, the West is not blind to what's going on. It knows sanctions are being broken and has chosen to turn a Nelson's eye. The rationale of the West's diplomatic play is to squeeze Russian oil revenue the best it can without creating a shortage of petroleum products in their markets. India's export of refined products made of Russian crude seems to suit that rationale. No one seems to be bothered if Indian refiners make money off the international gambit. The problem will begin if someone turns the screws and begins a retaliation process against India for breach of sanctions. Are we prepared? And is there a Plan B?

FAITH HEALING CAN DO MORE HARM THAN GOOD

A few days ago, in Madhya Pradesh's Shahdol district, two infant girls with pneumonia died. The girls, belonging to the Kol tribe, were allegedly subjected to a faith healing practice called 'Daagna' (poking with hot iron rods to cure the illness). These shocking incidents have raised a range of questions. They point to a major challenge faced by the Indian healthcare system in an age when the health sector is getting beefed up with technologies like telemedicine and more effective drugs.

Two women faith healers have been booked in the case, where one infant was poked with a hot iron rod 51 times while the other was poked 24 times. The first died in a government hospital on February 1 and the second died at a private hospital on February 4. The district health authorities initiated action against some permanent and contractual health department staff, ranging from issuing show cause notices to removal from posts over dereliction of duty for failing to prevent the incidents. But will such action halt these practices? Moreover, will it discourage people from taking to faith healing? For one, centuries-old "cures", linked to rituals and ceremonies, are embedded in people's mindsets. Hence the demand leads to continued supply from faith healers. While such practices may have a placebo effect by making patients "feel better", they cannot cure cancers, severe viral infections like Covid-19, pneumonia (as in these two cases), or a whole range of diseases. Faith healing could more likely than not do more harm than good. There is reluctance among many young doctors to move to rural areas to practice medicine. High medical education costs discourage young doctors from moving to rural areas, making them prefer urban hospitals for larger incomes to help them repay running loans earlier taken for their professional education. The all-India average doctor-population ratio is nearly 1:1800 against the World Health Organisation (WHO)-recommended 1:1000. It is worse in the rural areas. The lack of adequate access to scientific healthcare and intense faith in these practices in rural areas encourage the persistence of these forms of "treatment".

What is urgently needed is for awareness to be raised across rural India to dislodge such beliefs and convince misguided minds to trust tried-and-tested, medically proven cures and treatments for diseases and illnesses. It is time we realised that faith healing practices could potentially claim or maim lives.

QUICK TAKE

INDIAN ILLEGALS MENACE

There's a sudden surge in illegal Indian migration to the US. It may dent the Indian diaspora's credibility if left unchecked. US Border Patrol caught over 13,000 illegals from India last October-November. Several more would have evaded authorities, hiking this figure. Some enter the US legally but overstay as illegals. Recall the Gujarati family that died trying to enter the US after shelling out thousands of dollars to cartels. They represent a new middle class that can afford illegal migration costs. The government must press for a coordinated response from the US, Canadian, and Mexican administrations to tackle the menace.

Civil society must go beyond the nation-state to renew the idea of the Earth as an imagination. The ideas of the Earth, ethics and the Anthropocene have to be woven together

REINVENTING CIVIL SOCIETIES AND DEMOCRACY

SHIV VISVANATHAN

Social scientist associated with THE COMPOST HEAP, a group researching alternative imaginations

The reinvention of democracy has to go beyond electoral systems, current models of governance, and the conventional question of civil rights. One needs a theory of civil society because civil society is the humus for reworking the democratic imagination. After the authoritarianism of the Emergency, it was civil society that recharged the batteries of the somnolent democracy with institutions like the People's Union for Civil Liberties and journals like the Seminar. Today when the idea of the Opposition has become passive and inert, the role of parties is predictable. One needs civil societies to revitalise a passive sense of democracy.

Mere dissent or simple protest will not do. One needs new imaginaries to reinvent democracy. Imaginaries, as the Greek philosopher Cornelius Castoriadis explained, add a new sense of possibility and a new frame of alternatives to society. They catalyse dreams into feasible institutions. Civil society has to combine the idea of the local and the cosmopolitan, or what Gandhi dubbed as Swadeshi and Swaraj, to create a new vision of alternatives.

This column will focus on three kinds of social movements necessary for renewed democratic imagination. Firstly, civil society has to go beyond the nation-state to renew the idea of the Earth as an imagination. The ideas of the Earth, ethics and the Anthropocene have to be woven together. Secondly, India needs a new rethink around peace. It has to go beyond the official text of security and borders. Thirdly, civil society has to rework the idea of knowledge to challenge the hegemony of expertise. The citizen has to be seen as a repository of original knowledge, not merely a passive consumer of it.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The idea of the Anthropocene is an attempt to focus on the damage man has done to the Earth. The period after the Holocene has been dubbed the Anthropocene by Dutch chemist Paul Crutzen to mark the rise of man-made damage on Earth. But the Anthropocene as a discourse and as a genealogy of imagination date back to the ideas of Russian biologist Vernadsky and French Jesuit scientist Pierre Teilhard de Chardin—both pondered about the role of man on Earth. There is considerable controversy about the dates. Some mark the beginning of the Anthropocene with the advent of the industrial imagination, and some to the atomic age. Many anthropologists attribute it to the invention of America and the genocide of the tribes. Around five to six million Indians disappeared during the so-called conquest of the West.

The second debate centres around the nature of responsibility. Many scholars blame capitalism and the West, claiming that the Anthropocene was a result of western consumption and industrialism. But today we have to go beyond the immediacy and parochialism of such a radicalism and think of nature as unity. We have to rework nature as a cosmology to rescue the Earth. Imagine if every school or college begins by saving a dying plant species or a dying language. Civil society becomes a trusteeship of memory and diversity around the tribal, the teacher and the housewife. Nature has to be seen as more than a resource. We need new sacred groves of imagination to sustain the diversity of nature. In fact, the Directive Principles of the Constitution must list out measures to protect ecological sites, including rivers, and provide a new notion of rights for nature. Indian civilisation and spirituality have to rework themselves into a new idea of responsibility and a more vigorous celebration of nature.

In protecting nature, we inaugurate our moment to peace. The Truth and Reconciliation Commission of South Africa was a great Gandhian invention. Created by Mandela and Desmond Tutu to restore sanity and peace to post-Apartheid South Africa, it needs to be extended. The violence in Kashmir and the northeast needs a healing touch, the ethical repair of the Reconciliation Commission. Healing needs truth and a realisation that truth can create more peace than security. When a nation-state is caught in debates on security, it is civil society that must rescue it. Civil groups like the university activists fighting everything from Narmada to genetic monoculture, and the housewives as envisioned by Ela Bhatt, and other feminists, must demand an end to the brutality of the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Act (AFSPA). The Truth Commission in India would expand the Gandhian imagination and create a new effervescence around the idea of the Satyagrahi. India would begin a new set of experiments regarding the truth about itself. India must exorcise the silence around state violence, and only civil society can perform this role with its ethical acuteness.

The vision of the Anthropocene and the idea of peace must extend to new ways of reading knowledge. This knowledge should create new ways of confronting genocide and the erasure of people labelled as "outdated". One needs a vision beyond technocracies. Craft acquires a centrality along with a concern for livelihood. A way of life and a way of living are built around life, giving alternatives of knowledge. Such knowledge is based on diversity and plurality.

One is reminded of biologist Hans Jenny. He walked into class at Berkeley and showed a set of slides. He then asked his class to identify the pictures. The smarter ones claimed they were impressionist paintings or the work of the French artist Monet. Jenny smiled and said they were slides of soil. Soil under the microscope looks beautiful. He advocated the rights of different soils to exist. Similarly, we have to look at the rights of the ecosystems and marginal species and create a new knowledge democracy for nature.

All this requires that the school and the university reinvent the idea of knowledge. Civil society must not only rescue the university from its current despondency but create a new knowledge system. Interdisciplinarity must become a new form of trusteeship and in the future a new kind of guardianship for the university. The idea of life transcends reductionism to become more life-giving. We need a new kind of Pugwash movement to expand the dream of new cosmologies and new methodologies of knowledge, where knowledge is playful rather than industrial.

With these three moves towards ecology, peace and knowledge, democracy gets redefined beyond a rudimentary idea of citizenship and rights. The marginals must find a new voice, and our country a new way of reinventing civilisation. By reinventing civilisation, India achieves a sense of life and life-giving activities. That is the dream we have to look for—a civil society that thinks and acts towards a different future and different ethics.

BUDGET 2023 FORTIFYING INDIA AGAINST RECESSION

HINDOL SENGUPTA

Multiple award-winning historian and author

By wide consensus, the world is headed towards a slowdown, if not a recession, by the end of 2023. The Indian finance minister presented a budget which does everything it possibly could to ensure that the Indian economy has the strength to survive and keep growing during this difficult phase that's most probably around the corner.

Perhaps the most effective way of understanding this budget is through the capital expenditure proposed—an increase of 33% from the previous year. That, coupled with the highest ever outlay for the Indian railways at ₹2.40 lakh crore, nine times the outlay in 2013–14, gives us a sense of what the government thinks has worked, and how it seeks to expand ideas that have worked.

It should be remembered that the last budget was also a capex-heavy budget which was needed as it was this kind of government spend that had helped India stabilise during the Covid-19 pandemic period and its aftermath. The food distribution programme, again a pandemic legacy, is also being extended for the next one year at a cost of ₹2 lakh crore because of assessment that some support in terms of supplies and income creation (through capex) is needed to keep the momentum in the economy. The ₹10 lakh crore provisioned for spending on capex would have a significant multiplier effect as it cascades through the economy, and by the time its real impact is seen, the world will probably be in the middle of a downturn—that's when the effect of this capex spend would be most fortifying.

It is in this light that many other aspects of the budget could be understood, ensuring that support is provided where it will be most needed. For instance, for MSMEs, the infusion of ₹9,000 crore in the Credit Guarantee Scheme, an additional collateral-free guaranteed credit of ₹2 lakh crore, and the reduction of the cost of credit by 1% is a boost that would ensure the health of such firms when times turn stormy.

Greater spending on the railways—highest ever at ₹2.40 lakh crore—and a hundred new critical transport infrastructure across sectors like ports, coal, steel, fertilisers, and food grains at a cost of ₹75,000 crore would further boost income generation with significant downstream effects.

From enhancement of agriculture to broadening of loans for fisheries, this budget has targeted all the sections and sectors that might be vulnerable to a downturn.

There are many reasons why this is critical. For one, India needs a straight decade or so of stable growth to ensure that it fulfills its own economic and geostrategic potential. The budget speech of Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman started by emphasising on this pivotal moment when it underlined that per capita income has doubled since 2014 to ₹1.97 lakh. This will likely more than double in the next decade.

The next two years are going to be crucial for India. If it can weather the next financial storm and continue to grow at above 5%, and at a rate higher than China, then it would become clear that the next century would be India's

While the conversation about the economy is usually about big ticket numbers like the GDP (gross domestic product), which India aims to grow to $5 trillion, one of the understandings that has finally dawned on the public sphere is that per capita income is equally, if not more, important. It is per capita income growth that ensures that the fruits of growth are not getting concentrated in a few hands alone. Growth in per capita income ensures that domestic savings continue to hold steady, and rise, which is one of the main reasons why India has managed to emerge relatively strong after the 2008 financial crisis and even after the pandemic.

By raising the cap on capital gains tax (the budget caps deduction from capital gains on residential property investment to ₹10 crore) and improving the income tax regime, the budget aims to put more money in the hands of the middle class. Through a combination of greater capex and more money for the salaried class, it hopes that not only would India's high growth rate remain stable, it would also be able to weather the financial storm that is coming.

Tax breaks have in fact been provided at every level or band of taxation rate, each of which is aimed at ensuring more money remains with the people. The finance minister announced that the government will forego ₹35,000 crore in the process of reducing taxes.

The next two years are going to be crucial for India. If it can weather the next financial storm and continue to grow at above 5%, and at a rate higher than China (which it is today), then it would become clear that the next century would be India's. Already, India has most probably become the most populous country in the world as China's population growth slows and falls, while the nation's population continues to grow.

This demographic advantage can only be used if at an individual level, Indians feel empowered and financially uplifted. The country must sustain a high investment climate and ensure that the average person continues to feel more economically prosperous. This is the fundamental security that enabled America's rise—major improvement in infrastructure, per capita rise in income, overall rise of GDP, and a sweeping tide of confidence. The climate is now ripe for this to happen in India. This will give India a reassuring political economy which would enable its smooth rise as a global power. Already India is a net provider, rather than receiver, of financial assistance in the world, and its financial strength now needs to remain stable and grow for it to be seen as a reassuring port of call (a role it played through grants in helping rescue the Sri Lankan economy recently). This budget puts the protective shields in place so that nothing can disturb India's ascension.

Turkey-Syria earthquake

Apropos of 2,600 killed and counting (Feb 7). One is utterly sad and shocked to think of the damage and destruction that the earthquake has caused to Turkey and Syria. India has volunteered to provide aid and assistance to Turkey, and other countries have extended a helping hand too. May God help the helpless!
Hullasa Behera, Bhubaneswar

Pray for those in danger

The news of the Turkey-Syria earthquake has taken the world by storm. Thanks to the borderless world we live in, the incident hits home. We must pray for the affected. When a calamity hits, the aftermath is always worse.

Character over birth

Apropos of What an Upanishad actually says about birth and behaviour (Feb 6). In Thirukkural, Thiruvalluvar says, "All men that live are one in circumstances of birth; diversities of works give each his special worth." The rishi not only applauded Jabala for her candour but also appreciated the enthusiasm of the boy to learn. One more feather in the writer's cap!
K Jayanthi, Chennai

Out of the box solution

It's alarming to note that the Daily wagers' plight (Feb 7) in Gujarat is so precarious that there's an increase of 50% cases of suicide despite the state being declared "vibrant". Mere MNREGA and minimum subsistence wages won't solve the problem. There should be an "out of the box" solution to increase the employability of daily wagers in manufacturing, agriculture, tourism, etc.
K Nehru Patnaik, Visakhapatnam

Jumbos belong in forests

The editorial If we love elephants, must end their torture (Feb 7) has rightly assessed that fandom matters little to the elephants and to stand caparisoned for long hours under the scorching sun is not exactly enjoyment for them. To catch a glimpse of the jumbo in the forest is a greater spectacle than to see it decked for a festival.
Sanath Kumar T S, Thrissur

Selfish human world

The editorial on ending the torture of elephants is quite relevant in these times. Many Keralites are yet to shed their notions regarding the parading of elephants for festivals. There is no reason why this gentle giant should not be exclusively confined to the forests, instead of being a slave to egoistic traditionalists and selfish businessmen in a human world.

Budget '23 takes care of all sections of society: Thakur

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

PTI

UNION Minister For Information & Broadcasting, and Sports and Youth Affairs Anurag Singh Thakur hails the Union Budget, saying it has laid the foundation for a new India. In an interview with this daily, Thakur talks about a range of issues, including slashing of allocation for MGNREGA and Parliament logjam, besides the Budget.
Excerpt:

What are the highlights of this budget?

This Budget is all inclusive, transparent and visionary. Every section of the society -- poor, women, youth, middle class, farmers and self-help groups – has been taken care of. The focus is on infrastructure improvement that will create more jobs. Significant allocation has been made for each sector. The foundation of Atmanirbhar Bharat (self-reliant India) has been laid to build a new India. Emphasis is on improvement of incomes. The focus is on green economy that will lead to green jobs. India will become a hub for green hydrogen; we have already sanctioned ₹37,000 crore for the same. We are looking at an investment of about ₹8 lakh crore in this field.

> The focus is on green economy that will lead to green jobs. India will become a hub for green hydrogen; we have sanctioned ₹37,000 crore
>
> Anurag Thakur, Minister I&B, Sports & Youth Affairs

The Budget allocation for the ministry of sports and youth affairs has been increased by 11%; the highest since 2010. What are the plans?

PM Narendra Modi wants India to be a 'sports superpower'. Sports infrastructure is being spruced up. We will work on the improvement of National Centres of Excellence. High altitude training centres will be built.

Opposition is criticising the cut in allocation for MGNREGA by 30%...

The Congress government used to spend ₹30,000 crore whereas even during the pandemic, we spent over ₹1.14 lakh crore. It is a demand-driven scheme. Last year, the payout was ₹99,000 crore. Whenever the demand comes up, the Budget is provided.

The Opposition-ruled states have been raising the old pension scheme issue. What is your response?

Whatever promises they had made before the elections; they should keep. Himachal Pradesh CM (Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu) said he has no funds to fulfill the promises. They promised ₹1,500 to women and also the old pension scheme. What were their calculations before the elections? They should answer.

After three days of disruptions on the Adani issue, Opposition parties agreed to end the logjam. What is your take?

Parliament gives them an opportunity to raise the issues related to the common man. They (Opposition) missed the opportunity. They could have a longer period to discuss issues concerning the public, during the question hour and discussion during Motion of Thanks on the President's address. A couple of political parties were running away from the discussion.

Squeezed Budget share a worry for agri sector

Allocation for agriculture and allied sectors 27% less than that in 2021-22 & 5% less than estimates of last year

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE Union budget has prepared the ground for setback to rural lives. Over 52% (89.58 million) rural households directly depend on agriculture for their income. However, this year's budget allocation for agriculture and allied sectors is 27% less than that in 2021-22, and 5% less than the budget estimates of last year.

This is a far cry from Prime Minister Narendra Modi's dream to double the income of farm households by 2022, which he announced in 2016. In 2012-13, the average monthly income of a farm household was ₹6,427, which increased to ₹8,059 in 2015-16, and further rose to ₹10,218 in 2018-19.

Farmers' income reached ₹12,445 by 2022. As per experts, the 'real income' should reach ₹21,146. "Going by government figures of farmers' income, only 33% has been achieved so far of the promised income," says Kiran Kumar Visas of Rythu Swaraj Vedika, a farmers' organisation in Telangana and Andhra Pradesh.

The budgetary provision for Price Stabilisation Scheme (PSS) and Market Intervention Scheme (MIS) to support horticulture and plantation farmers has been abandoned. In 2021-22, the actual budget was ₹2,288 crore, which got reduced to ₹1,500 crore the next year, while this year, this allocation is almost nil. Another scheme, PM-AASHA, to ensure minimum support for oilseeds and pulses has been ignored.

"The government has squeezed the share for agriculture sector of total budget from 3.84% to 3.20%," says agriculture analyst Devinder Sharma. "Over the years, government investment in agriculture has been reduced while support to corporate sectors increased."

Flagship programmes such as agriculture insurance and direct income support to farmers have also seen a dip in the allocation. The Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi, which provides income support of ₹6,000 per year to farmers, has seen a decrease in allocation by 13%. The Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana has seen a 12% decline as compared to the budget allocation of the previous year.

The allocation for rural development schemes has been cut from 5.81% (Revised Estimate 2022) to 5.29% (Budget Estimate 2023) of total budget.

"Initiatives such as PM-PRANAM and BPK will be game-changers in the long run, paving the way for sustainable agriculture and reduced input costs," says Shambhu Prasad of Institute of Rural Management, Anand.

The PM-PRANAM (Programme for Restoration, Awareness, Nourishment and Amelioration of Mother Earth) aims to promote use of alternative fertilisers and balanced use of chemical fertilisers while Bhartiya Prakritik Kheti Bio-Input Resource Centres (BPK) is meant to boost natural farming.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman felicitated by BJP president JP Nadda as PM Modi looks on at the BJP Parliamentary Party meet in New Delhi on Tuesday | SHEKHAR YADAV

BJP MPs felicitate Modi, Sitharaman for 'pro-poor' Budget

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

CONGRATULATING itself on the Union Budget, the BJP in its parliamentary party meeting on Tuesday felicitated PM Narendra Modi and Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman. The PM described the Budget 23-24 as "pro-poor" and "inclusive" while Sitharaman said the proposals took care of the middle class while keeping the focus on the country's poor.

Specially designed garlands were presented to the two amid thunderous applause. Party chief JP Nadda credited the PM with conceptualizing the "pro-poor budget." Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi showered praise on Sitharaman for bringing out a "well-balanced and all-inclusive budget."

"It is an all-inclusive Budget that touches every section of our society, especially the poor and the deprived sections", the PM said. The PM, however, kept up the political pitch. He advised his party MPs to reach out to their respective constituencies and discuss what the Budget has for them. The PM told the MPs that whenever the Budget is presented, there are a few people who speak negatively. "This year's Budget has been hailed as pro-people even by those who are opposed to the BJP ideology," he said.

He dismissed the Opposition charges that the Budget proposals were prompted by crucial polls in nine states this year and then the Lok Sabha polls early next year.

"It is not a poll-driven budget but a budget focused on the betterment of the poor. It is an all-inclusive budget." The PM told the party MPs that if they wanted to get re-elected, they should always be in dialogue with the people, especially those belonging to the poor and middle class in their constituencies.

He said if the party MPs interact with the people directly, there will be no anti-incumbency. "I think all of us should go to our constituencies and stay connected with the people," he said. Sharing details of the meeting with the media later, Joshi said that the PM also directed the MPs to organize "MP sports competitions" (Saansad Khel Spardha) in their respective constituencies.

BJP uproar in House over TMC MP's 'offensive' comment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PTI

The Lok Sabha on Tuesday witnessed vociferous scenes after Trinamool Congress MP Mahua Moitra used "unparliamentarily" word during the Motion of Thanks on the President's address. The BJP members sought an apology from her. Moitra's 'offensive comment' was recorded on a microphone while she was speaking during Telugu Desam Party leader K Ram Mohan Naidu's speech.

Though Bhartruhari Mahtab, who was standing in for Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, tried to pacify the members, the latter paid no heed to his requests. Some members said 'being a woman', Moitra shouldn't have used that 'objectionable word'.

"Some offensive words were used. It won't go on record. I will ask the Parliamentary Affairs Minister to talk to TMC about this," said Mahtab.

Moitra raised the demand of an independent probe into the allegations of the Hindenburg report on the stock manipulation by the Adani Group. However, her speech was continuously interrupted by BJP MPs. At one point, Moitra said she is unfazed by the heckling of the 'saffron brigade'.

"In conclusion, everyone is asking who is behind Mahua? The fake news chaddi brigade floats new theories daily. They ask if an American investing bank is behind Mahua or is it Ambani or China? Nobody is behind Mahua. I am behind the truth," she said.

Moitra sought to know why the Securities and Exchange Board of India had been a "silent operator". "The Opposition members cannot say China, Rafael, Morbi, or sometimes even utter the word Modi. We are forced to tread on precarious shells," she said, demanding to know why the FPO, which was withdrawn by the Adani Group, was approved without completing the probe.

Sharing his comments on Twitter, Puri wrote, "Faster than Pasta! Chef Brar informed us that millets taking a long time to cook was a myth - this khichdi was ready in 7 mins, faster than pasta!"(sic)

Chopper scam: No bail to middleman Michel

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday dismissed the bail plea of Christian James Michel, an accused in ₹3,000 crore AgustaWestland VVIP chopper scam. James was arrested and extradited from Dubai on December 4, 2018 and had approached SC against Delhi High Court's order of refusing to grant him bail on the ground that he covered u/s 436A of CrPC which deals with maximum period for which an under trial prisoner can be detained.

He had stated in his plea that he had covered 50% of his maximum sentence which according to section 8 and 9 of Prevention of Corruption Act was 5 years. A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala while dismissing his plea noted that his case was not covered under section 436A CrPC. The bench however said that court's observations would not come in the way of him approaching trial court for a regular bail.

"The provisions of Section 436A would not be applicable in this case. We find no merit in the SLP. We clarify that present order shall not come in the way of approaching trial court for regular bail. The SLP is dismissed. We clarify that the present order shall not come in the way of the petitioner approaching the trial court for grant of regular bail," the court said in its order.

During the hearing, the bench however expressed concerns with regards to his period of custody. "Ultimately how long will you keep him in custody? Mr Jain, you will have to be fair to him. Till when do you propose to keep him in jail? How long will the process of LRs continue? 2 years, 3 years? Tell us by when it will conclude? It cannot go on endlessly," CJI remarked.

BJP pins hopes on 'Didi' in Tripura

Union minister Pratima Bhoumik is party candidate in Left bastion of Dhanpur constituency

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Agartala

THE BJP is pinning its hopes on Tripura's 'didi' Pratima Bhoumik to capture the Dhanpur seat, a Left bastion since 1972. Four-time former Chief Minister Manik Sarkar of the CPM contested five times (1998-2018) from Dhanpur in the Sipahijala district, which shares a border with Bangladesh, and never lost. He opted out this time, brightening the hopes of Bhoumik as well as the BJP.

Dhanpur is in rural Tripura where people depend largely on agriculture to eke out a living. The constituency has 31% Muslim voters. The fiery Bhoumik will be up against the CPM's Kaushik Chanda, TIPRA Motha's Amiya Dayal Noatia, Trinamool Congress' Habil Miah and two others contesting as Independents. A straight contest is expected between BJP and CPM.

This is the second time that Bhoumik is contesting from the seat. She lost to Sarkar in 2018 by a margin of 5,441 votes. The BJP had a statewide vote share of 1.54% in the 2013 elections that the Left won for the fifth time in a row. But in 2018, the BJP stopped the Left juggernaut by winning 36 of the state's 60 seats and forming the government.

"In 2018, the people voted the BJP to power to get freedom from the Left. This election will decide Tripura's fate," the 53-year-old told this newspaper.

"Tripura is a small state and depends heavily on the Centre. There was no last-mile delivery of the Centre's flagship programmes when the Left was in power. The Left discriminated against people on party and religious lines," she said.

When Bhoumik, who hails from a family of farmers and is the first graduate in her village, joined the BJP in 1991, it was a fledgling party. With the BJP's growth in the state, she too climbed the ladders of success. In the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, she won from the Tripura West seat and two years later, she became the first Central minister from the state.

CPM's Sarkar says the "fascist" BJP compelled the two parties to come together.

"The BJP is nervous. It is enemy No 1 of the people of Tripura. We have to defeat it to protect the Constitution and secularism," the veteran politician said. The BJP captured power in 2018 riding on its slogan of 'Chalo Paltai' (let's change). Sarkar said the changes the BJP effected include taking away citizens' rights, winning elections through "forgery".

The Left in its 25-year rule discriminated against people on party and religious lines.

Mamata slams BJP, says TMC will remove 'double engine' from country

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Agartala

WEST Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday proclaimed her Trinamool Congress (TMC) would remove the "double engine" BJP from the country even as she attacked the Central government on the controversy surrounding industrialist Gautam Adani.

"The TMC does what it says. Test it once. It will remove the double-engine from the country. Tripura, Meghalaya and other states will stand by Bengal," Banerjee said addressing a rally in Tripura where the party is contesting 28 of the 60 seats in the February 16 elections.

She claimed the TMC is the only party fighting alone for past 22-25 years. She said the TMC sapling has grown into a big tree and it is not possible to devour it.

"Abhishek (Banerjee) was talking about two engines – CBI and ED. If you think you can win polls by making arrests or using CBI and ED to scare us, remember there is a tomorrow. Wait and watch till 2024," Banerjee said attacking the BJP.

She said "ginger traders" were controlling the country. "LIC and SBI are flickering. If SBI shuts down, will you get back your money?" she asked the crowd. She said the double-engine can be seen only during elections. She pilloried the BJP on black money, stating it has made its way into the party.

BJP MLA's defection to TMC raises questions

The defection of a north Bengal MLA to the Trinamool Congress has prompted a section of the BJP's Bengal unit to question the leadership capabilities of chief Suvendu Adhikari. According to sources, multiple leaders, who were against Adhikari's induction in the party before the 2021 Assembly election, are increasingly becoming critical of Adhikari's inability to keep the party's strength in the Assembly together. "Since the 2021 Assembly polls, key BJP leaders who have switched to the TMC are MLAs. Shouldn't the leader be held accountable," a BJP leader asked.

Resume convocation: Presidency students

Presidency University has announced that students who graduated last year can get their degree certificate from the office of the controller of examination or an online platform, a declaration that seems to ignore an appeal that the certificates be awarded at a convocation. A group of students have been demonstrating over the past two weeks to press for a series of demands, including resumption of the convocation. The university's last convocation was held in September, 2018. It was held at Nandan following a sustained students' protest over delay in repairing a hostel.

Civic body requests vaccination camps

The Kolkata Municipal Corporation (KMC) has written to the heads of 91 schools in the city, who have not allowed the civic body to organise measles-rubella (MR) vaccination camp on their campuses, to reconsider their decision. The coverage of the special MR vaccination drive has so far been poor in Kolkata, compared with rest of the state. The drive, aimed at eradicating measles and controlling rubella, started in the state on January 9. Children between nine months and 15 years are eligible for the MR vaccine. A total of 4,16,635 children had been vaccinated against measles and rubella as part of the special drive in Kolkata, which is 35 per cent of the population.

HC okays interim anticipatory bail to Chinmayanand in 2011 rape case

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN a major reprieve to former Union minister Swami Chinmayanand, Allahabad High Court confirmed the interim anticipatory bail granted to him in connection with a case of alleged rape lodged against him in Shahjahanpur following complainant victim's submission of an affidavit saying she had no objection to the withdrawal of criminal prosecution of Chinmayanand as she was not interested in further proceedings in the aforesaid case.

The court, on Monday, also took into consideration the submissions made by the UP government's counsels that the state government itself had taken a decision to withdraw from prosecution and had granted permission to the public prosecutor to move an application under Section 321 criminal procedure code (CrPC) and, therefore, the state was not opposed to anticipatory bail.

However, the court directed Chinmayanand to appear before the trial court concerned within one week from February 6 to submit a personal bond and two sureties each of the like amount to the satisfaction of the court concerned, if he had already not submitted in pursuance to the interim order dated December 19, 2022.

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WITH over 17,000 MoUs already signed and investment proposals worth ₹27 lakh crore in the offing, the upcoming UP Global Investors Summit (GIS-2023), scheduled to be held from February 10 to 12 in Lucknow, is set to be one of the biggest business activities organised by the state government so far in Uttar Pradesh. The investment proposals bagged by the UP government ahead of GIS-2023 are almost 2.5 times of the initial investment target of ₹10 lakh crore which was set for this year's summit.

As per the senior state government officials, the investment coming through GIS-2023 is likely to generate over two crore direct and indirect employment opportunities. The most noticeable aspect of these proposals is that around ₹7.16 lakh crore, which makes nearly 25% of all investments, are coming from abroad with investors showing a perceptible change in UP's perception.

In response to the business meets and road shows organised by the UP government delegation, led by Cabinet ministers, in 21 cities across 16 countries, the foreign investors signed around 108 MoUs expressing interest in majorly five of the 25 sectors — data centre, logistics park, renewable energy, apparel and textiles and film city. Foreign investors have shown maximum interest in setting up data centres in the state by investing ₹17,560 crore.

Thorat quits as CLP leader, says humiliated

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IN a setback to Maharashtra Congress, the party's legislative wing leader Balasaheb Thorat resigned from his post on Tuesday citing mudslinging within the state party. In his resignation letter to Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge, Thorat said that he was unable to work in a "vicious atmosphere where his loyalty to the party has been questioned."

Thorat expressed his desire to step down as Legislature Party leader and asked his leader to appoint someone else in his place. However, party chief Nana Patole said he has not received any resignation letter from Thorat. "I have not got any resignation letter. He should communicate with us," Patole said.

Sources said Thorat was hurt by the way his name was dragged into the row over the Nashik Graduates Constituency MLC biennial polls. Nashik graduates constituency's MLC Dr Sudhir Tambe, the brother-in-law of Thorat, had declined to contest despite being the Congress candidate. He got his son Satyajeet Tambe instead.

BJP's Vikas Yatra: Poem on Gandhi's role in freedom struggle stokes controversy

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

THE statewide Vikas Yatra of the BJP government aimed at spreading development mantra to masses has landed in controversy in Seoni district of Madhya Pradesh over recitation of a poem belittling Mahatma Gandhi's contribution to the country's freedom struggle.

The controversial episode reportedly happened at the CM Rise School, a state government school, on Monday after that day's Vikas Yatra culminated at the school in Seoni town. One of the students of the school recited a poem, in which many lines belittled the contribution of Mahatma Gandhi.

The boy recited the poem in the presence of ruling BJP leaders, including local MLA Dinesh Rai Munmun and government officials. A video of the student reciting the poem and earning plaudits from the gathering went viral.

"Mocking at Mahatma Gandhi cannot be excused. BJP and RSS have never had any regard for Gandhiji. It's not the fault of the school student who recited the poem, the fault lies with those who taught him to recite that poem. The local BJP MLA and his party cannot evade responsibility in the matter as the video clearly shows that the MLA is praising the boy and also trying to reward him for the poem," Seoni district Congress president Raj Kumar Khurana said.

Trying to play down the matter, Munmun said, "The poem recited by the boy shouldn't be taken seriously. The Congress should avoid politics." However, the Seoni district education officer acted and said, "The teacher who brought the student has been served show cause notice and all principals have been directed to ensure that nothing objectionable is spoken about such people."

Another paper leak in MP

Bhopal: The statewide contractual staff nurse recruitment test of Madhya Pradesh National Health Mission (NHM) was cancelled on Tuesday, following the arrest of eight men hailing from four states, who had allegedly leaked the question paper of the two-shift examination. They had struck deal worth lakhs of rupees (possibly ₹2 lakh to ₹3 lakh per candidate) and kept it to themselves as guarantee for payment of the sum after the examinees solved the paper.

Ripples in Rajasthan BJP over change in PM's rally venue in Meena heartland

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE change in the venue of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's rally in Dausa district on February 12 has created ripples in the Rajasthan BJP. Originally it was expected to be held at Meena Athai in Dausa district, closely identified with the tribal Meena community, a major vote bank in east Rajasthan. Political circles are buzzing that the change of venue is the result of a tussle between the two major Meena leaders of the BJP in the area , one Rajya Sabha MP Kirori Lal Meena and his political rival Jaskaur Meena who is the Lok Sabha MP from the area.

The PM will inaugurate the Delhi-Mumbai Expressway on February 12 and the entire state, including Dausa is going to benefit from this expressway. He will also address a public meeting at the venue. Earlier preparations were being made for the public meeting at Meena Athai in Dausa and Rajya Sabha MP Kirodi Lal Meena had also visited Nangal Pyariwas to invite people to come to the meeting by distributing yellow rice. However, the meeting place has been changed and preparations have been started to make the meeting place in Rest Area of Dhanavad village in Bandikuai town.

About two lakh people are expected to attend the PM's meeting. There was sufficient place for lakhs of people to come to Nangal Pyari Vas , however, there is a lack of space in the Dhanavad rest area due to which now NHAI officials are leveling the surrounding area as part of the prepartion.

While officials are shying away from giving official information about the change of venue, the party workers there have a lot to say. After this decision there is tremendous resentment among Kirori's supporters who are expressing their displeasure on social media. Even Rajya Sabha MP Kirori Meena is unhappy about this matter and has raised it inside the party.

One reason circulating for the venue change — after the inauguration, PM Modi and many Union Cabinet members will observe the expressway after inaugurating it and only after that, there will be a public meeting.

However, political reasons circulating for the change — some BJP leaders of the state, including Dausa MP , had lodged an objection regarding the venue of the public meeting at Nangal Pyariwas and a message was sent to the Delhi high command, resulting in a change in the venue of this public meeting. Bandikui is Gurjar and Meena dominated area and, after the inauguration in Bandikui, Modi will seek to reach out to both the Gurjar and Meena voters of the area.

MIRACLE BABY: SYRIA NEWBORN PULLED ALIVE FROM RUBBLE

The sole survivor of her family, she was found tied by her umbilical cord

JINDAYRIS

EXTENDED family members pulled a newborn baby alive from the rubble of a home in northern Syria, after finding her still tied by her umbilical cord to her mother, who died in Monday's massive quake, a relative of the infant said.

The infant is the sole survivor of her immediate family, the rest of whom were all killed when the 7.8-magnitude quake that struck Syria and neighbouring Turkey flattened the family home in the rebel-held town of Jindayris, Khalil al-Suwadi said.

"We heard a voice while we were digging," Suwadi told AFP on Tuesday. "We cleared the dust and found the baby with the umbilical cord (intact) so we cut it and my cousin took her to hospital."

Video of the rescue went viral on social media. The footage shows a man sprinting from the rubble of a collapsed four-storey building clutching a tiny baby covered in dust. A second man runs towards the first carrying a blanket to try to warm the newborn in the sub-zero temperatures while a third screams for a car to take her to hospital.

The baby was taken for treatment in the nearby town of Afrin, while family members spent the next several hours recovering the bodies of her father Abdullah, mother Afraa, four siblings and an aunt. Their bodies were laid out on the floor of an adjacent relative's home ahead of a joint funeral held on Tuesday.

Inside an incubator in the hospital in Afrin, the newborn was hooked to an intravenous drip, her body scarred, and a bandage wrapped around her left fist. Her forehead and fingers were still blue from the biting cold as paediatrician Hani Maarouf monitored her vitals.

"She is now stable," Maarouf said but noted that she had arrived in bad condition. "She had several bruises and lacerations over all her body," he told AFP. "She also arrived with hypothermia because of the harsh cold. We had to warm her up and administer calcium." AFP

French protesters hold more strikes over pension changes

PARIS

PUBLIC transportation, schools and electricity, oil and gas supplies were disrupted in France as demonstrators numbering in the tens of thousands took to the streets on Tuesday for a third round of nationwide strikes and protests against the government's pension reform plans.

The demonstrations came a day after French lawmakers began debating a pension bill that would raise the minimum retirement from 62 to 64. The bill is the flagship legislation of President Emmanuel Macron's second term.

Tens of thousands of people marched in the cities of Nice, Marseille, Toulouse and Nantes, and in other places across the country.

Last week, an estimated 1.27 million people demonstrated, as per authorities, more than in the first big protest day on January 19. More demonstrations, called by France's eight main unions, were planned for Saturday.

Protesters hold banners during a demonstration in Paris on Tuesday | AFP

Rail operator SNCF said train traffic was severely disrupted on Tuesday across the country, including on its high-speed network. International lines to Britain and Switzerland were affected. The Paris metro was also disrupted.

Power producer EDF said the protest movement led to temporarily reduced electricity supplies, without causing blackouts. More than half of the workforce was on strike at the TotalEnergies refineries.

The Education Ministry said close to 13% of teachers were on strike, a decrease compared to last week's protest day. A third of French regions were on scheduled school breaks.

Macron vowed to go ahead with the changes, despite opinion polls showing growing opposition. The bill would gradually increase the minimum retirement age from 62 to 64 by 2030. Opposition lawmakers have proposed more than 20,000 amendments to the bill debated on Monday, mostly by the left-wing Nupes coalition. AP

Adani group shares stage strong recovery

Adani firms post mixed Q3 results amid row over governance issues

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

AMIDST row over Adani Group irregularities and stock manipulation, quarterly results of the group firms keep pouring in.

Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone Ltd (APSEZ) posted a 13% drop in net profit to ₹ 1,337 crore in the quarter ended December 2022, weighed down by a higher forex mark-to-market loss.

Ambuja Cement's net profit surged 46% to ₹369 crore while Adani Green Energy reported a 110% rise in its consolidated net profit to ₹103 crore for the quarter ended December.

Meanwhile, some Adani group stocks made smart recovery on Tuesday. Shares of Adani Enterprises ended 15% higher to close at ₹1802 apiece on Tuesday after being locked in an upper circuit of 20% earlier in the day. Adani Transmission, which traded most of the day locked in an upper circuit of 5%, ended 0.5%lower after giving up the gains. After eight straight lower circuits of 5%, the shares of Adani Wilmar have emerged out to end at an upper circuit of 5%. Adani Transmission shares were locked in the upper circuit, rising 5% to ₹1324.45 apiece.

Shares of the Adani group firms reacted to the results declared on Tuesday. APSEZ's revenue of the company increased 18% to ₹4,786 crore in the third quarter ended 2022 compared to ₹4,072 crore in the same quarter previous year.

> We have an impeccable track record of fulfilling our debt obligations, and our internal accruals enable us to meet the scheduled debt repayment for any of the financial years.
>
> Karan Adani, CEO, APSEZ

Karan Adani, CEO of the company said that the company is well placed to achieve the upper-end of its full year revenue and EBITDA forecast for FY2023. Commenting on the APSEZ's net debt, he said that the company is considering total loan repayment and prepayment of around ₹5,000 crore, significantly improving net debt to EBITDA ratio and bring it closer to 2.5x by March 2024. APSEZ is targeting EBITDA of ₹14,500-15,000 crore in FY2024. "We have an impeccable track record of fulfilling our debt obligations, and our internal accruals enable us to meet the scheduled debt repayment for any of the financial years without any major challenges," said Adani.

'No significant risk to banks from Adani exposure'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

INDIAN banks' exposures to Adani Group are not large enough to affect their credit quality materially and the overall quality of the local lenders' corporate loans will be stable, said Moody's Investors Service.

Fitch Ratings said that the Indian banks' exposure to the Adani group is insufficient in itself to present substantial risk to the banks' standalone credit profiles. "We estimate that their exposures to Adani are less than 1% of their total loans," Moody's said in a report on Tuesday. "We estimate that the bulk of the exposures are collateralised, either with operational assets or with projects under execution, rather than to the corporate level."

Moody's says the Adani group's access to funding from international markets can be curtailed because of heightened risk perception. "In that case, domestic banks may become the main source of funding for the group, resulting in increases in banks' exposures to Adani and greater risks for them," the report says.

Yet the overall quality of Indian banks' corporate loans will be stable, according to Moody's. "Corporates in general have deleveraged in the past few years. This is reflected in modest growth in their corporate loan books." Moody's said that any spillover effects on other corporates would be credit neutral for banks. Fitch said that Indian banks' Issuer Default Ratings (IDRs) all remain driven by expectations that the banks would receive extraordinary sovereign support, if needed.

Amid concerns in certain quarters over LIC's exposure to Adani Group companies, the government said the insurer has informed that it strictly follows the statutory framework and regulations while making investments.

"LIC has informed that all investments of LIC are carried out strictly as per the statutory framework of the Insurance Act, 1938 and the IRDAI Investment Regulations, 2016 and are guided by a detailed governance mechanism," Minister of State for Finance Bhagwat Karad told the Rajya Sabha in a written reply on Tuesday.

Last week, state-owned Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) said it has investments of ₹ 35,917.31 crore in Adani Group's debt and equity securities.

JAPAN CONFIRMS INTERVENTIONS TO SUPPORT YEN

Japan confirmed on Tuesday that it made record interventions in the foreign exchange market in October, selling the dollar worth 6.35 trillion yen ($48 billion) to support the yen currency, Ministry of Finance (MOF) data showed. The quarterly data showed a steep drop in the yen to a 32-year low of 151.94 to the dollar on October 21 triggered the intervention that day, followed by another on October 24. The government said it was important for currencies to move stably reflecting economic fundamentals, and that future interventions were not entirely ruled out. The stealth interventions, or making a foray in the market without announcing it, came after Tokyo intervened to buy the yen for dollars for the first time in 24 years on September 22. Japan spent a record 5.62 trillion yen ($42.5 billion) on a single day yen-buying intervention on October 21 and further 730 billion yen on October 24, having spent 2.84 trillion yen on September 22 to stem the yen's sharp fall, which boosted living costs for resource-deficient Japan.

THAI CENTRAL BANK TO HELP VULNERABLE DEBTORS

Thailand's central bank will support vulnerable debtors from the impacts of rising interest rates, a deputy governor said on Tuesday. There will be assistance in line with debtors' debt servicing ability, Deputy Central Bank Governor Ronadol Numnonda said. Later this month, the central bank will also issue guidelines to tackle household debt, including handling existing debt and offering new responsible lending, he said. Some borrowers with combined debt of 12 billion baht ($357.46 million) had received support under a scheme introduced earlier, Ronadol said. The central bank has raised its policy rate four times since August and suggested further increases. Thailand's household debt is among Asia's highest, equivalent to 86.8% of GDP in the third quarter of 2022. The high level of household debt could disrupt economic recovery and needs to be brought down to sustainable levels, according to Governor Sethaput Suthiwartnarueput.

PHILIPPINES

PHILIPPINE INFLATION BEATS EXPECTATIONS

Philippine annual inflation blew past expectations in January to reach a fresh 14-year high on surging food prices, raising the chance of the central bank delivering a larger interest rate hike to tame prices when it meets this month. CPI rose 8.7% in January, the statistics agency said on Tuesday, well above the 7.7% forecast in a Reuters poll and topping the 8.1% rate in December, when the central bank had expected prices to peak. Core inflation, which strips out volatile food and fuel prices, also increased to 7.4%, the highest in more than two decades and up from December's 6.9%, suggesting price pressures remain broad. The Philippine central bank, which had forecast January CPI to come in between 7.5%-8.3%, said after the data release it remains focused on restoring inflation to the government target of 2%-4%. "The January 2023 inflation data points to the need for sustained efforts to combat price pressures, particularly non-monetary government measures," the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas said.

ESOP: Start-ups can now claim tax benefits faster

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

EMPLOYEES of start-ups will now be able to reap the tax benefits given on employee stock option plan, as the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) has put in place 10 boards to expedite the process of certification required to be eligible for tax exemptions, Sanjay Malhotra, Revenue Secretary said in an interaction with this newspaper.

Many people have not been able to avail the benefit of deferred tax payment on ESOPs due to conditions imposed for certification by the DPIIT.

"DPIIT has now put in place 10 boards to fast-track the certification process. Earlier, there used to be only one board. Very small number of start-ups has so far got this approval. But now, the certification process will be expedited and by March-end, hopefully many of the start-ups will get the certificates," Malhotra said.

In order to be eligible for claiming tax benefits, start-ups need to be recognised by DPIIT, then they have to get certificates from the inter-ministerial board set up by the DPIIT. The board validates start-ups for the income tax exemption on profits under section 80-IAC of income tax act.

According to the DPIIT secretary, out of the total applications of 2,500 for 80-IAC, only 400 had been cleared, but with the creation of 10 parallel boards, in the last two months, the approvals have gone up to nearly 1,100.

"Hopefully, by March or April, we will finish the 100% pendency because we have multiplied our workforce by 10 times," he said.

According to the Startup India website, out of 6.15 lakh start-ups, more than 90,000 start-ups have received DPIIT recognition and 1,048 have received income tax exemptions.

Infosys lets go of 600 freshers after they failed in internal assessments

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

IT services company Infosys has reportedly fired about 600 freshers after they failed to clear an internal assessment.

This comes days after Wipro had let go of about 452 freshers after they performed poorly in assessments. According to sources in the company, these freshers had failed in internal assessments.

However, the company is yet to issue an official statement regarding this.

Recently, during an earnings conference, the company said it has hired around 46,000 freshers so far, and by the end of this fiscal, it will reach the target of 50,000.

"India IT service players, with the west as a key customer market, are never too far from macroeconomic shake ups like these. While the scale and level of layoffs may vary, the common theme across is one of caution and austerity amidst uncertainties," said Kamal Karanth, co-founder of staffing firm Xpheno.

IT services enterprises are seen responding differently to the emerging situations.

"While some are dropping headcounts, few are replacing talent and very few are having net additions in headcount. In all, the year 2023 is turning out to be the year of optimising costs for tech," he added.

"In the context of their large-scale hiring/training/assessments, these corrections have to be considered as par for the course," Karanth added.

Google unveils ChatGPT rival 'Bard'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

GOOGLE on Monday unveiled Bard, a new AI chatbot, in a bid to compete with OpenAI's ChatGPT. Google and Alphabet CEO Sundar Pichai said that they are opening it up to trusted testers ahead of making it widely available to the public in the coming weeks.

"We've been working on an experimental conversational AI service, powered by LaMDA, that we're calling Bard," he said.

"This much smaller model requires significantly less computing power, enabling us to scale to more users, allowing for more feedback. We'll combine external feedback with our own internal testing to make sure Bard's responses meet a high bar for quality, safety and groundedness in real-world information," Pichai said.

NCLAT issues notice to Torrent Investments on lender's plea in RCap case

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) on Tuesday issued notices to Torrent Investments and other respondents on a petition filed by the lender of Reliance Capital seeking a second round of financial bids for the debt-ridden firm, currently going through the insolvency resolution process.

A two-member NCLAT bench headed by Chairperson Justice Ashok Bhushan issued notices, directing respondents to file replies within three days. Vistra ITCL (India), one of the members of the Committee of Creditors of Reliance Capital, has moved the appellate tribunal against an NCLT order. NCLT in its order said the bench allows Investments' application and declared that the challenge mechanism for financial bids stood concluded as on December 21, 2022, with the bid of the applicant at ₹8,640 crore being the highest. It upheld the plea by Torrent Investments challenging bankers' decision to go for the second round of auctions in pursuit of higher value for the bankrupt company.

NCLAT has directed to list the petition on February 10, 2023, saying the appeal would be heard and decided by it. "It is made clear that appeal may be heard and decided finally," said the NCLAT bench. During the proceedings, senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi representing Torrent Investments sought time to file reply over the petition filed by the lenders. He submitted that the appeal should be heard and decided finally. "Respondents may file their reply by Feb 9, 2023. Rejoinder, if any, be filed by the date fixed," said NCLAT directing to "list this appeal on February 10, 2023".

INDIA'S CRUDE IMPORTS TO RISE WITH HIGHER INFLOWS FROM RUSSIA

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA'S crude oil imports are expected to rise, with higher inflows from Russia, said OPEC in its monthly oil market report released on Tuesday. The report also noted that India recorded bullish year-on-year oil demand growth of 0.43 million barrels per day (MMB/D) in November, up from 0.1 million barrel per day.

The November oil demand expansion was driven by diesel, which posted year-on-year growth of 0.3 mb/d. Diesel consumption surpassed a three-year high, rising 19% y-o-y in November.

"We see enormous economic growth coming from India and China. They will not only command 50% of the global economy, but also a big chunk of the energy resources consumption," said Dr Ayed S. Al-Qahtani Director, Research Division of the OPEC at the Energy India Week 2023.

As per the report, Russia was the top supplier of crude to India in November for the sixth month in a row with a share of 24%, as refiners continued to bring in discounted barrels. Saudi Arabia was second with 20%, followed by Iraq with 15%. In the first quarter of this year, India's oil demand is projected to rise by 0.2 mb/d y-o-y in 1Q of 2023. Its gasoline demand is expected to expand due to rising vehicle sales and overall steady economic growth.

"Demand for transportation fuel is anticipated to lead product demand. With projected continued healthy GDP growth, India's oil demand is forecast to expand y-o-y by 0.3 mb/d in 2Q23," reads the report.

FM asks Indian industries to partner with start-ups, use technology solutions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FINANCE minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday asked the Indian industries to come up with out of the box ideas on investments and technology and identify catalysts beyond PLI for growth of sunrise sectors.

In a post-budget event organised by the Confederation of Indian Industries (CII), the FM praised the Indian start-ups, who have come up with real life solutions across different areas, and exhorted the large industries to work together with the start-ups for new ideas and solutions.

"I find the pace at which start-ups and their solutions are moving. Actually the solutions are for you. But you should move as fast as they do or else you will be where you are and they will find newer industry or business activity for which they will come up with solutions which are lucrative and you are going to be where you are," Sitharaman said.

"So I would think working together with start-ups for products... or for technology requirements is the need of the hour and you should now unhesitatingly partner to get that benefit," she said at the CII post-budget interaction with CEOs. She also urged the industry to keep in touch with its global partners and share the pulse with the government.

ON THE SURFACE, STORY GETS SAME SPIN

With World Test Championship final berth at stake, hosts seem keen to make most of the conditions at Nagpur; Australia, too, may opt for spin-heavy line-up

FIROZ MIRZA @ Nagpur

EVEN as both India and Australia on Tuesday admitted it's difficult to ascertain the exact nature of the strip at the VCA Stadium, Jamtha in Nagpur, indications are that both teams might field spin-heavy attacks for the first Test starting Thursday. India vice-captain KL Rahul even went on to say that there's a temptation to play three spinners in the first of the four-match Border-Gavaskar Trophy.

"Yes, we did see it (the pitch), but it's still too early to really know what the pitch is going to do. We need to come here on the day of the match to know how it's really going to play," Rahul told reporters after the training session at the venue. "We can only look at it and assume it's going to play a certain way, but you never know with pitches. Yes, there is the temptation to play three spinners because we're playing in India. We'll take that call on the day of the game or the day before the game," added the right-hand batter.

Rahul's counterpart from the visiting side, Steve Smith, also echoed the sentiment. Given the nature of the track, Australia also look set to stack their team with spinners. "It's pretty dry," Smith said when enquired about the surface. "Particularly, one end that I think will take a bit of spin, particularly the left-arm spinner spinning it back into our left-handers. There's a section there that's quite dry. Other than that, I can't really get a good gauge on it."

Adding further, he said, "I don't think there will be a heap of bounce in the wicket. I think for the seamers, it will be quite skiddy and maybe a bit of up-and-down movement as the game goes on. The cracks felt quite loose. We'll wait and see when we get out there."

The Aussie batter also spoke on the prospect of fielding two additional spinners with Nathan Lyon but lamented unavailability of Cameron Green might render them with fewer options. "I think if Green was fit it would definitely be more of an option. Without him, maybe. I'm not entirely sure. I think we've got a strategy meeting this afternoon where we'll have a talk about what we think but ultimately it's down to the selectors to pick the team they think is best for the surface."

Meanwhile, Rahul accepted it will be tough to choose their playing XI with skipper Rohit Sharma back in the team after missing the two-Test series in Bangladesh. "I don't know if it has happened before but, yes, this time it is going to be tough. Tough decision to select an eleven. All the 15 guys in the side are top quality, and that's why they're here. Anyone of them on any given day can be a match winner...The playing XI, we always try and make a decision based on what's best for the team and for that particular Test match. We have done that over the last two years," he said.

> If it arises, then I'm more than happy to do that. Whatever little cricket I've played for the country, I've always done that. Whatever the team has asked me to do, I try and prepare that way and try and do my best for the team — KL Rahul on batting in middle-order

The India opener also said that the left-hand heavy Australian line-up could be an advantage for the hosts. The Australian team has left-hand batters in the form of David Warner, Usman Khawaja, Travis Head, Alex Carey and Matt Renshaw. "I think it will help our bowlers a little bit. If there are two left-handers together, and left-handers are coming in to bat, back-to-back, that will only mean that the bowlers get time to settle into a certain line and length. That also is a very unique thing. I don't think any other team has that many left-handers..."

However, he didn't tell much about India's preferred choice as far as three slots - wicket-keeper, third spinner and No 5 - are concerned. When asked if Shubman Gill will bat in the middle-order, he said: We still haven't decided on the final XI. It's going to be a tough decision to make. There are guys who have performed exceedingly well and there are a few spots open so there are a few discussions going on and the players are being spoken to."

Handscomb likely to get Green signal

FIROZ MIRZA @ Nagpur

PETER Handscomb made a dream start to his Test career in November 2016. After a 54 in his maiden Test against South Africa, he hit a century in his next against Pakistan. The right-hand batter from Victoria went on to score another half-century before registering his highest Test score of 110 against Pakistan. Such was his form that he could not be dismissed below 50 in any of his first seven innings from four matches. He was the first player in Test history to do so.

But a poor Ashes series in 2017-18 cost him his place Even though he kept making it to the squad, unimpressive outings meant he failed to cement his place with his last match being the Sydney Test against India in January 2019. Since his debut a little over six years ago, he has played only 16 Tests so far out of 54.

Incidentally, the 31-year-old has played the most number of Tests (seven) against India so far. As luck would have it, Handscomb may again make it to the playing XI with Cameron Green unlikely to feature in the Nagpur Test.

Green, the batting all-rounder, fractured his finger during the Boxing Day Test against South Africa. He hurt it again during the camp in Alur, Bengaluru before travelling to Nagpur with the team on Monday. Green did not bat during the visitors' first training session at the Vidarbha Cricket Association Stadium in Jamtha on Tuesday.

> I don't think he's (Green) even faced fast bowlers yet. So I dare say he won't be playing but who knows. I'm not entirely sure. We'll wait and see. But it's unlikely
>
> Steve Smith, Australia vice-captain

"I don't think he is [going to play]," Australia vice-captain Steve Smith told reporters when asked about the all-rounder's availability for the first match on Tuesday. "I don't think he's even faced fast bowlers yet. So I dare say he won't be playing but who knows. I'm not entirely sure. We'll wait and see. But it's unlikely, I think."

The setback may force the Pat Cummins-led side to field a specialist batter at No. 6. Even as Matt Renshaw had replaced Green during the home series against the Proteas in Sydney, the team management could prefer Handscomb for the role to balance the right and left-hand batters in the top and middle-order.

Even head coach Andrew McDonald had termed Handscomb important ahead of the series. "It's been well documented over a period of time that his play against spin is excellent, and we feel as though he's returned probably to what he was producing two or three years ago," McDonald was quoted as saying ahead of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy. The coach also emphasised that Handscomb is an important right-hand option especially with the team loaded with left-handers.

Above all, he was also a member of the squad when the Aussies last visited the country in 2017. The previous stint in India might tilt the balance in his favour when the coach and captain have a meeting to decide on the playing XI on Thursday morning ahead of the toss.

Two evenly matched teams, says former Aus consultant Sriram

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

THE upcoming India versus Australia Test series is bound to be full of twists and turns. Both camps have already fully warmed up to the task with the first Test beginning in Nagpur on Thursday. One person who has seen all of this up close is former Australia assistant coach S Sriram. He believes it will be a keenly contested series, with India holding a natural advantage as they are playing at home.

"The series will be an exciting one as usual," he said. "Both teams are known to prepare well. So there will be a good contest. The teams are very evenly matched with the conditions favouring India in terms of familiarity."

A few years ago, the then Australian team management had flown in left-arm wrist spinner, KK Jiyas, from Kerala for practice in order to tackle India's Kuldeep Yadav. Now, Mahesh Pithiya (Baroda bowler who was with the Australian team during their camp in Alur as his action resembled R Ashwin) has grabbed eyeballs as an Ashwin clone'.

"Yes I am aware that Australia are practicing against an Ashwin clone. But as far as I know, Australia have played against Ashwin a lot, so it's just practicing against off spin more than anything else," he opined. While there is a perception that Australia are vary against spin, Sriram refused to read too much into it. "Every team has to prepare for conditions that they are likely to face and that's what Australia are doing. It is nothing but preparation and too much is being read into it," opined the former Tamil Nadu all-rounder.

Sridharan Sriram

Ashwin is at the peak of his career and has a terrific record at home not only with the ball but with the bat too. "Ashwin is very clever, prepares for every opposition batter meticulously. (He is) very accurate and continuously keeps asking questions and challenges your defense. That's why he is difficult to play," revealed Sriram.

With Ravindra Jadeja making a comeback and joining Ashwin, many wonder how the Aussies will counter this duo. "There is no one size fits all. (Steve) Smith have been very successful without playing the sweep, whereas (Joe) Root has had phenomenal success playing the sweep shot. Every player will have his method and it's for him to work it out with their coach. Stick to the plan for long enough and also have a plan B when things are not going right," signed off Sriram.

Top tier contests

As the Ranji Trophy semifinals get underway on Wednesday, a look at the two clashes...

MP vs BENGAL
INDORE, 9.30 AM

Bengal are playing their third semi-final in a row, eyeing to reach finals and take the trophy for the first time since 1989/90. They came close in the 2019/20, but ended as runner-ups. Nonetheless, at their present strength, opener Abhimanyu Easwaran is in impressive form, averaging 92, making them geared up to lock horns against defending champs MP. This semi-final clash is a repeat of the last season. MP's Kumar Kartikeya, with a match-sealing fifer in the fourth innings, helped them beat Bengal. He could well be the key to MP's success in the all-important clash at home to reach successive finals.

K'TAKA vs SAURASHTRA
BENGALURU, 9.30 AM

The home side Karnataka are back again at the M. Chinnaswamy Stadium after crushing Uttarakhand in the quarter-finals. While Mayank Agarwal and Samarth R have both gathered over 600 runs this season. This is also a repeat of the same semi-final clash from the 2018/19 season, where Cheteshwar Pujara and Sheldon Jackson's centuries helped them win. This time, however, they will not have the services of Pujara, Jaydev Unadkat and Ravindra Jadeja. A lot will be riding on Arpit Vasavada, who will be leading the side.

WHEN IS THE AUCTION? FEB 13, MUMBAI, 2.30 PM | TOURNAMENT DATES: MAR 4-26

409 players set for inaugural auction

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AS many as 409 players are set to go under the hammer in Mumbai on February 13 at the inaugural player auction ahead of the Women's Premier League. From a massive 1525 players registered for the auction, the BCCI shortlisted the aforementioned number of players for the auction. It includes 246 Indians and 163 overseas players.

As many as 24 players — 10 Indians — have registered themselves for the highest reserve price of ₹50 lakh. They include India's top seven from Smriti Mandhana through Harmanpreet Kaur till Pooja Vastrakar, Sneh Rana, Meghna Singh and Renuka Singh. Among the overseas players, Sophie Devine, Ellyse Perry, Meg Lanning, Alyssa Healy, Darcie Brown, Katherine and Natalie Sciver-Brunts, Deandra Dottin and Danni Wyatt have registered themselves for the highest price.

While it is no surprise that the rest of the India internationals, currently in South Africa, have listed themselves for ₹40 lakh, the interesting bit is that some of the top overseas stars, especially all-rounders have also preferred not to opt for the highest price. The names include Shabnim Ismail, arguably the fastest bowler in the word, all-rounder Marizanne Kapp, West Indies skipper Hayley Mathews, Australia's Tahlia McGrath — 2022 ICC T20I cricketer of the year — Beth Mooney, Megan Schutt, Alana King, England captain Heather Knight and recently retired South Africa internationals Lizelle Lee and Mignon du Preez.

At some level, it seems a smart decision. That the teams have only ₹12 crore in their purse means not many are likely to go for massive prices. The players might not want to miss the chance of being a part of the WPL because of a higher reserve price. However, as has been the case with the men's auction, overseas pace bowlers and fast bowling all-rounders are likely to be picked ahead of specialist batters or wicket-keeper batters.

The five teams will be looking to pick 18 players each, adding up to a total of 90 players, including 30 overseas slots. Each team is allowed to play five foreign players (one among them will be from an associate nation). It means among the eight players from the associate nations, at least five of them are going to be picked in the auction. UAE U19 stars Theertha Satish, Mahika Gaur, Vaishanve Mahesh and the senior team skipper Esha Oza are likely to attract some bids in the auction. Same might be the case of left-arm pacer Tara Norris, who plays for the USA, and Thailand's Natthakan Chantham, who has taken part in the T20 Challenge previously. Hong Kong's Ka Ying Chan and Netherlands' Sterre Kalis are the other two players in the list.

'HAPPY' MANDHANA GOOD NEWS FOR WOMEN IN BLUE

GOMESH S @ Chennai

"WAS I not batting well before that," quipped Smriti Mandhana with a laugh in one of the post-match press conferences during the recent tri-series in South Africa when asked if she was still feeling the touch with the bat that the India opener said she had found just before the Commonwealth Games.

It was not a dig at the journalist who asked the question nor was it a snap for a comment on her batting in general. It was just a reflection of the happy state of mind she was in, especially about her batting. Minutes before that, she had expressed her pleasant surprise at the number of people who had turned up for the virtual PC around 2 AM Indian time saying, "Aaj bahut log hain (today quite a few are here)" and had politely corrected the team's media manager that her name is pronounced as 'Mandhana' and not 'Mandhaana' with a smile.

What followed over the next 14 minutes was a refreshing interaction as the India vice-captain responded to every query candidly, including the very first one to which she had reacted with a counter. "I think, before the CWG, I had some time to go back and actually practice a lot in my batting which I had to work on. Definitely before that, a few things in my batting, it was not about scoring or not scoring, but the kind of feel you get and somewhere I was not feeling 100 per cent with my batting, but before CWG I felt that I am actually timing the ball the way I actually want to. Since then, I have been trying to build on it, watch the videos as I know that this is what is working for me and stretch it as long as I can." From 2020 till the CWG, the southpaw had amassed 582 runs at 29.10 average with a strike rate of 128.76. Post this period, she has smashed 618 at 34.33 with a SR of 134.05. But it is not just about the strike rate and average. With Mandhana, there is more to it than just that. As she focused on being happy about the way she felt, she was timing the ball better and clearing the boundaries with ease and more importantly, converting the quick starts into match-winning scores. Not that she hasn't done it before as she asked, but the difference is visible.

Smriti Mandhana | SPORTZPICS

She said that going hard early on irrespective of the conditions is something that has backfired at times as it did in the first match of the tri-series before Deepti Sharma and Amanjot Kaur led the recovery. "It depends on what conditions I am batting and not regarding how I am in my mind. That was the mistake I made... we had to learn from our mistakes and understand that building an innings is really important in these wickets (slow and low ones) and not just going after every ball. That is something I have been working on, trying to be a little mature about it."

'When Mandhana scores, India wins' is a general feeling, and they do more often than not. It, however, seems to be related to how she feels about her batting as she said. All of her six fifties since CWG has resulted in a victory for India. Come Sunday, India would be hoping that a happy Mandhana takes the field and she continues to stay in that zone over the next three weeks. For a 'happy Mandhana' seems to be working out well not just for herself, but the Women in Blue as well.

PROFITS CLIMB BUT B.P. DILUTES GREEN TARGET

Earlier, the British energy giant promised to cut carbon emissions by 25-40%. However, they are now targeting a cut of just 20-30%

ENERGY

LONDON: British energy giant BP on Tuesday announced record annual profit thanks to soaring oil and gas prices, as it watered down its target for cutting carbon emissions.

BP's underlying profit more than doubled to a record $27.7 billion last year, sparking renewed outrage from green groups and unions demanding far greater action on tackling climate change and a cost-of-living crisis. The huge earnings mirror record profits by BP rivals after the invasion of Ukraine by major fossil-fuels producer Russia hit supplies and pushed the West into beefing up its energy security.

BP's exit from its 19.75% stake in Russian energy group Rosneft cost it more than $24 billion. However, that pushed it into a loss after tax totalling $2.5 billion last year, compared with net profit of $7.6 billion in 2021. BP on Tuesday also said its carbon emissions would not fall as quickly as anticipated.

The company expects carbon emissions from oil and gas production to fall by 20-30% in 2030 compared to 2019.

This compared with its prior forecast for a drop of 25-40%.

"We need continuing near-term investment into today's energy system—which depends on oil and gas—to meet today's demands and to make sure the transition is an orderly one," said chief executive Bernard Looney.

"We will prioritise projects where we can deliver quickly, at low cost, using our existing infrastructure, allowing us to minimise additional emissions and maximise both value and our contribution to energy security and affordability."

Speaking later on an investor webcast, Looney said BP's "ambition and aims, taken together, are consistent with the goals of the Paris Agreement" which says global greenhouse emissions must drop 45% by 2030 to limit global warming to 1.5 degrees Celsius. Environmentalists hit out the strategy update.

"Not only will BP's new strategy fail to deliver much-needed energy security in the UK but it will ensure that people across the globe already battling devastating droughts, floods and heatwaves, will continue losing their lives and livelihoods," said Kate Blagojevic, Greenpeace UK head of climate justice. "It's time to stop drilling and start making polluters... pay the price for the climate damage they are causing all around the world."

The record profits come as consumers face soaring heating and electricity bills, which has triggered widespread calls for energy majors to pay more tax to ease a cost-of-living crisis. Unions and members of the opposition Labour party again called on the Conservative government to increase its windfall tax on the likes of BP and British rival Shell.

"As millions struggle to heat their homes and put food on the table, BP are laughing all the way to the bank," said Paul Nowak, general secretary of the Trades Union Congress. "Ministers are letting big oil and gas companies pocket billions in excess profits. But they are refusing to give... key workers a decent pay rise."

3 dead as boat sinks off Greece

MIGRANTS

Three migrants died and more than 20 were feared missing after a second boat sank off the coast of Greece in just days, the coastguard said on Tuesday. The two women and one man who drowned are believed to have been part of a group of 41 people whose dinghy sank after hitting a reef near the island of Lesbos, a coastguard spokeswoman told AFP. Sixteen people have been rescued so far amid an ongoing search by land, sea and air that's being hampered by strong winds, she added. On Sunday, four children and a woman died when a boat carrying another group from neighbouring Turkey sank off the Greek island of Leros.

2 years in a row, 13-yr-old girl named 'world's brightest'

ACHIEVEMENT

WASHINGTON: An Indian-American schoolgirl Natasha Perianayagam was named in the "world's brightest' students list for the second consecutive year by the US-based Johns Hopkins Centre For Talented Youth.

This list is based on the results of above-grade-level tests which are taken by over 15,000 students across 76 countries.

Perianayagam, 13, is a student at Florence M Gaudineer Middle School, in New Jersey.

She also took the Johns Hopkins Centre For Talented Youth (CTY) test in Spring 2021, when she was a student of Grade 5.

Her results in the verbal and quantitative sections levelled with the 90th percentile of advanced Grade 8 performance, which catapulted her into the honours list that year.

This year, she was honoured for her exceptional performance on the SAT (Scholastic Assessment Test), ACT School and College Ability Test, or similar assessment taken as part of the CTY Talent Search, the university said. Perianayagam, whose parents hail from Chennai, said she loves doodling and reading JRR Tolkien's novels in her spare time.

CTY used above-grade-level testing to identify advanced students from around the world and provide a clear picture of their academic abilities.

According to the university press release, Perianayagam was among the 15,300 students from 76 countries who joined CTY in the 2021-22 Talent Search year. Less than 27% of those participants qualified for the CTY ceremony, receiving either high or grand honours based on their test scores.

In her latest attempt, Perianayagam scored the highest grades among all candidates.

"This is not just recognition of our students' success on one test, but a salute to their love of discovery and learning, and all the knowledge they have accumulated in their young lives so far," said CTY's executive director Dr. Amy Shelton. "It is exciting to think about all the ways in which they will use that potential to discover their passions... and achieve remarkable things" she added.

The comedian who started it all, Cyrus Broacha, is here in namma ooru to entertain audiences. Ahead of his show today, the 'funny man' recalls his iconic prank on Bengaluru boy Rahul Dravid, how his failed law career got him into the world of entertainment, and the changing landscape of comedy

THE OG 'GAG'STER

India has suddenly changed and you have to be careful. As you know, goverernments take themselves quite seriously. But what we try to do is not get personal
Cyrus Broacha, comedian

MONIKA MONALISA

IN 1999, India had a tele series, Hello Friends, which was a desi version of the popular American sitcom F.R.I.E.N.D.S. It starred Simone Singh, Maria Goretti, Nikhil Chinapa, Anil Dimbri, Aparna Banerjee and Cyrus Broacha. Broacha, who portrayed the character inspired by Chandler Bing, now looks back at it as a 'cringe-worthy, awkward '90s show which was funny in its own way'.

But moving to the more popular shows that Broacha is known for, MTV Bakra popularised prank shows in India. According to Broacha, the prank he played on Bengaluru boy Rahul Dravid, where a girl was set up to say she wanted to marry Dravid – putting the cricketer on the spot – is still an iconic one. "Fortunately or unfortunately, we were doing a Pepsi ad with Dravid when my team suggested pranking him. Luckily, he took it in the right spirit. Had it been anyone else, we would have landed in trouble," he says, adding, "Maybe it's something to do with Bengaluru. People here are very level-headed, they don't wear their stardom."

Having started his career as a 'funny man' at a time when there was no space for comics, Broacha recalls he was told to not be funny because viewers would get upset. "But I have a contrary personality. If you ask me not to do something, I will most probably go ahead and do it," says Broacha, who also gives credit to his 'failed career as a lawyer'. However, being on MTV also gave him a platform like none other. "By nature, I could not be serious for too long. The business I was in at MTV was entertainment, and we used to play songs and discuss them. So I was asked to take a funny angle. But I didn't have a choice, what else could I do? I could not look like Malaika Arora (a fellow VJ)," says Broacha with a laugh.

There is no contradiction to the fact that the comic landscape has changed much since the time Broacha started. For which, he says he has to be careful about how jokes are presented. "India has suddenly changed and you have to be careful while writing. As you know, governments have taken themselves quite seriously. But what we try to do is not get personal," says Broacha.

(Cyrus Broacha will be performing at Chowdiah Memorial Hall, on February 8, 7.30pm)

Filmmaker Nagathihalli Chandrashekar takes CE on a journey through time and space following the launch of his travelogue Jagaliinda Jagattu, sharing his love for travel and how the world has evolved since he first started globetrotting

JOY OF JAUNTS

DESE GOWDA

BACK in mid-'60s, a school boy in a tiny village called Nagathihalli on the edge of Karnataka's Mandya district was fascinated by the Bengaluru-Mangaluru highway that passed through the village. He used to dream of hopping onto one of the giant lorries with an 'All-India Permit' licence board that would frequent the highway and reach faraway lands... something that he had only heard of from his parents. He was so intrigued with the idea of exploration and travel that he was sure he wanted to become a lorry driver when he 'grew up'.

While that answer often landed him in trouble, a few decades later, the boy managed to realise his dream of travelling the world through hardwork and commitment. Widely known for his films – Undu Hoda Kondu Hoda (1991), Hoomale (1998) and Maathad Maathad Mallige (2007) among others – acclaimed filmmaker Nagathihalli Chandrashekhar is also an avid traveller.

In his recent book titled Jagaliinda Jagattu, the 64-year-old has chronicled his nearly four decades worth of travel experience, giving an intimate account of each country's culture, people and lifestyles. "I always sought to meet the common people of whatever countries I visited, because those are the kinds of people who represent the country," he says, adding, "Rather than visiting the places frequented by tourists, I always sought to visit remote places, which gives an authentic local experience."

In the late '70s, Singaporenalli Raja Kulla became the first Kannada film to be shot outside the country. Two decades later, Chandrashekar's America America (1996) went a step further, with 90 per cent of the photography taking place abroad. "When I first went to the United States, the size of the Kannadiga community over there took me by surprise. I wondered if I could tell a story about the community. Back then, shooting Kannada films outside the country meant, at most, having a song sequence. It didn't really play a central role in the film. I wanted to disrupt that tradition and try something new; make whatever place I shot at, a prominent part of the film, and incorporate the local culture into the plot," he shares.

Having come from a humble background, Chandrashekar decries the common belief that travel is expensive and out of reach of common people. "While money does play a role, it's not like you cannot travel without a lot of money. If you genuinely have an interest and you make it a priority, I believe most people can afford to travel. It needs a bit of planning, but it's possible," he says. "I have done quite a few odd jobs – a daily labourer, a sign board writer among others early in my life. Until I managed to land a job as a lecturer, I had a limited income. Yet, I used to save up enough money over a few months to travel."

A firm believer of travel's positive influence on one's mental health, Chandrashekar says, "Most people live their whole lives in a bubble. Only when you step out and explore do you get a different perspective on things." With plans to travel to the North Pole in 2023, Chandrashekar also hopes to one day see the earth from afar. "Possibly after space tourism becomes economically viable!" he quips.

DEALING WITH THE 'D' WORD

HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon
(Writer, comedian)

THE last two weeks have been difficult for me. I stayed cooped up at home, and my room looked like it was hit by an earthquake that measured 8.1 on the Richter scale. My social interaction was minimal. For you see, I was in D company. Not Dawood Ibrahim, but Depression.

Of course, it wasn't the first time. Like a suspicious house-owner checking on tenants, I get these visits every few years. The causes are a cocktail of an overthinking overdrive, existential questions, and a work schedule that looks like it isn't for one person, but all the five Pandavas! My usual response is to drink enough to feature in an ad for Officers' Choice, and lash out at everybody around me. I felt ashamed that I was depressed, like I was above these mortal worries. But crucially, I was unable to understand what was going on inside me. I spoke to counsellors, but never was able to convey my point without slipping into a standup comedy set about my mental health. But not this time.

Socrates (or someone) said that it is important to find the root of the problem. In films and books, we are shown that bad breakups cause depression. Or a loss of a loved one. But depression is not loose motions, with identifiable cause and effects. It is unpredictable, and unwieldy. And then, there are the solutions people offer. 'Go to the gym', they say. But depression is not the excess weight you put on during Deepavali. You can't simply workout your way out of it. The other common suggestion is to meditate. But my mind is like Usain Bolt on a Tesla battery. Every time my mind took off, I would feel like a rishi rusticated from Vishwamitra's ashram for failing to control the mind. The other solution people recommend is to talk to people. But I often feel like I wouldn't be depressed if I didn't talk to so many people in my daily life!

Enough was enough! This time, I would take control of my depression. Like a middle-aged bear opting for Voluntary Hibernation Services, I decided to prepare. With the meticulous planning of a doomsday prepper, I locked myself in with my favourite things, and decided to document my depression. Was it anxiety? Or overthinking? Was I feeling dejected, or suicidal? Earlier, I used to run away from people and commitments. This time, I politely sent them a message saying I was dealing with some issues of my own, and needed time off. Surprisingly, I was understood by most people. I read a lot. I finished the Dostoevsky book on my shelf – the one that seemed like a crime to pay for, and a punishment to finish. I ate what I loved without feeding the details into my fitness app like a diligent ISI agent. I observed my feelings and wrote about them when I could. I often complain about social media, but I hacked it to my advantage. I started 'liking' as many dog videos as I could, and found the algorithm working in my favour.

In a few days, I began to feel better. I wish there was a magic solution that I could recommend. But there isn't. Unfortunately, depression is a gutter that you have to wade through. All you can do is ensure you have the right equipment and gear. And then, plunge right in till you can see the light at the end of the gutter. So if you feel down and out, just know that there are others feeling it too, and begin gathering your gear to wade through the gutter. As Swami Nityananda would probably say, 'Only when you clean the gutter, you will feel better!'

The actor will appear alongside Upendra, in a track choreographed by Jani Master

A SHARADHAA

R CHANDRU'S Kabzaa, the upcoming multilingual film starring Upendra in the lead role, is currently in the post-production phase. With the film set to hit the theatres on March 17, there has been a buzz that the makers are shooting a special song.

While the development has been kept under wraps, sources privy to Cinema Express confirmed that the special song will feature actor Tanya Hope and be shot in the coming week. Tanya will be seen alongside Upendra and other artists, in the upcoming song. Written and directed by R Chandru, Kabzaa is set to release in nine languages. The makers recently released the first lyrical song video in multiple languages, at an event held in Hyderabad. Kabzaa is expected to be a gangster period drama set in between 1940-80. Shivarajkumar had earlier played a cameo role in Balakrishna's Gautamiputra Satakarni (2017)

Balakrishna, Shivarajkumar to team up

RAM VENKAT SRIKAR

KANNADA star Shivarajkumar has revealed that he will be teaming up with Telugu star Nandamuri Balakrishna for an upcoming film. The actor, who is currently in Hyderabad, promoting the Telugu-dubbed version of his latest hit Vedha, shared the news while interacting with the media. "We are planning a combination with Balayya Babu. We haven't finalised the story yet. He has to take a call on the project, but he assured that he will plan it accordingly. But yes, we are doing one film in combination," he says. Interestingly, Shivarajkumar made a cameo appearance in Balakrishna's 100th film, Gautamiputra Satakarni (2017), directed by Krish Jagarlamudi.

Considering the nascency of the project and the ongoing commitments of actors, it is safe to assume that the film will take time to materialise.

In Kannada, Shivarajkumar has a slew of films in his lineup, including KD: Karataka Damanaka, Ghost, 45 and Sathyamangala. He will also be seen in Tamil films, Jailer and Captain Miller. Balakrishna, on the other hand, is currently filming for an Anil Ravipudi-directorial.

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

LOVE is finding space again in Hindi cinema. Filmmakers are tired of anger and are realising that change won't happen through Twitter arguments. The most radical of them all, Anurag Kashyap, now wears a hoodie which reads "Mohabbat se hi toh kranti aayegi (Only love can lead to revolution)". Rahul Gandhi is traversing the length of the country for love. Maybe that's why a series based on the 2005 jailbreak in Bihar's Jehanabad, where CPI (Maoist) rebels attacked a police station in the dead of the night to free their comrades, chose love to tell the tale of rebellion.

SonyLiv's show Jehanabad: Of Love and War has two plotlines running parallelly. A police officer, SP Durgesh Pratap Singh (Satyadeep Mishra) is tasked with containing a Naxalite leader Deepak Kumar (Parambrata Chattopadhyay). On the other hand, love is blooming between erudite college professor Abhimanyu Singh (Ritwik Bhowmick) and a young buoyant student Kasturi Mishra (Harshita Gaur). Politician Shivanand Singh(Rajat Kapoor) is the one pulling the strings in both tales. The showrunner is Sudhir Mishra (Hazaaron Khwaishein Aisi).

"I think people should fall in love often, I know I have," says Rajeev Barnwal, the show's creator and director, with an easy laugh. We, along with actors Rajat Kapoor and Satyadeep Mishra, were sitting in a corner room at a Mumbai hotel. "I met a girl in 2005 whose story became Kasturi's in the show. In November of that year, I read about the jailbreak. I got curious. One city sleeps after having dinner, gets attacked and people rescue their leader from jail. I thought why did this happen? What made them go on this path (Maoism)? So, I took this love story and this event and fictionalised them both. What I wanted to say was that love can be a solution to all conflicts."

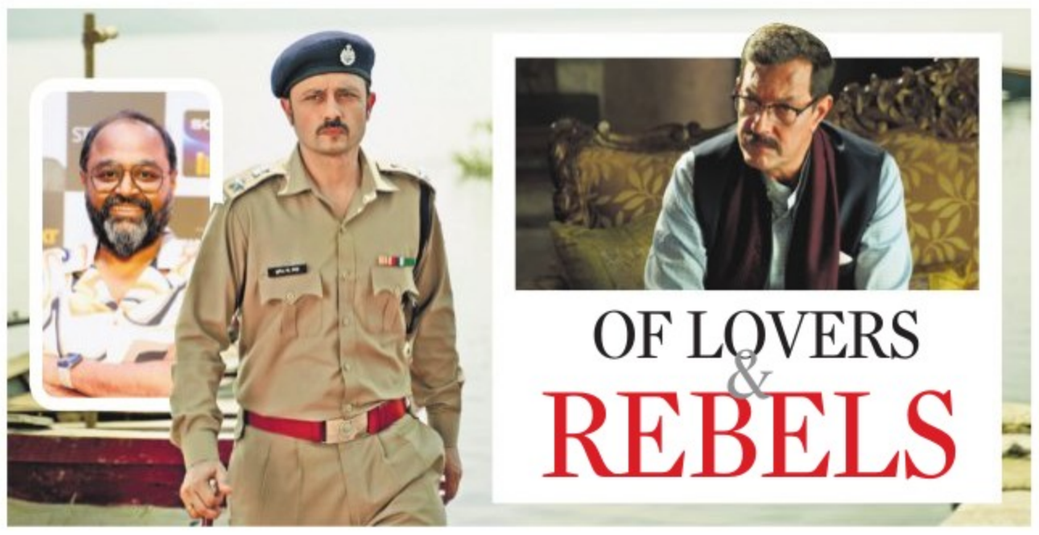
When asked if they have ever rebelled for love, Rajat says, "I can't say about rebellion but I remember how intense love was when we were young. Oh, the heartbreaks..."

Rajeev pauses, and frames his anecdote, "I fell in love with a girl my parents didn't approve of. I was 23, she was 30. Once she called my house to wish me on my birthday and my mother picked up the call and said..."

"Chudail (Witch)," interjects Rajat. Rajeev lets out a chuckle, and continues, "...But I said if I do marry, it will be with her. I was sort of a rebel in my small town in Jharkhand. I was in love with an older woman and I wanted to be a filmmaker."

The series also explores caste discrimination at a college campus. A Dalit student is killed because he touched a Savarna during a game of Kabaddi.

"I have to confess, I had a sheltered existence till I moved to Delhi for college. Only there, I realised which surname means what." He further expressed the need for active politics in colleges. "I think the student's voice is the most unadulterated. Their opinions might be considered naïve by some, but they are noble and border on truth."



Actors Rajat Kapoor, Satyadeep Mishra, and director Rajeev Barnwal talk about young romances, college politics and their show Jehanabad: Of Love and War
